Survived 7 Week Ordeal After Crash

Pair Rescued In Frozen North

Coed Lost 30 Pounds And Pilot 40

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory (AP)—A California pilot and an undaunted Brooklyn coed felt their strength flowing back today in a Whitehorse hospital after a seven-week ordeal of hunger and cold in the subzero Canadian north.

They said faith in God brought them through after their plane crashed Feb. 4.

Helen Klaben, 21, and Ralph Flores, 42, a father of six from San Bruno, Calif., said they survived on melted snow for the last six weeks.

"It was water for breakfast, water for lunch and water for dinner," said Miss Klaben, managing to smile for her rescuers although she had a broken, gangrenous right foot and a broken left arm and was gaunt from hunger.

She lost 30 pounds — the heavily bearded Flores lost 40—but Miss Klaben quipped: "That was one good thing about the experience. I used to be 'pleasingly plump.'"

Flores, a pilot and electrician, also is a Mormon lay preacher.

"His faith set the example for me to follow all my life," said Miss Klaben.

"I am starting my adulthood with full knowledge of what I have to do. I wasn't rescued until I understood until I realized my sins and decided to make recompense for them."

"It was Ralph's Bible. I read both the Old and New Testaments. I know what I have to do, what my work is, what faith is, faith in God."

Miss Klaben said she never lost hope, but was puzzled "why the Lord was keeping us so long."

Then, she told reporters, she realized "Ralph and I both needed time to think over our lives."

During the terrifying weeks in RESCUED CRASH SURVIVOR, Helen Klaben, 21, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is made comfortable in an ambulance by nurse Marie Ellain after being flown by light plane from Watson Lake, Yukon Territory. the wilderness, Miss Klaben said she longed for her mother, Ida Klaben of Brooklyn, more than anything or anyone else.

Her first act after arriving at the hospital here—where Dr. Nestor James reported she and Flores were "doing as well as can be expected"—was to telephone home.

In Brooklyn, Mrs. Klaben sobbed: "I'm so wrought up I don't know what to do. The poor child, she's really suffering. I'd like to go to her. She's such a wonderful, wonderful girl."

Flores, who suffered a broken rib and frozen toes, also telephoned home when he got to the hospital.

"We were so happy and emotional we couldn't tell each other much," said his wife, Theresa. "He had tears in his eyes, I am sure, and I was the same way too."

Sheryl Flores, 14, talked to her father. Tears streaming down her face, she kept repeating: "When are you coming home?"

Flores told reporters he expects to be released from the hospital in about five days.

He said his light plane was blown off course in a snowstorm and crashed on a heavily timbered mountain as he and Miss Klaben flew from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Seattle, Wash.

Miss Klaben flew with Flores "because it was only $75 for the trip and it's $150 on a commercial airliner," her brother, Edward, said in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Miss Klaben was finishing a five-month stint as a draftsman with the U.S. Bureau of Land Management.

She said she was heading for California en route to Hong Kong on the first leg of a round-the-world tour. First reports said she was on the way back to New York to continue engineering studies.

Flores, an electrician on the U.S. Dewline (distant early warning) radar network, had completed his contract and was flying home in his $7,000 private plane.

Telling of the crash from his hospital bed, he said he was planning to stop at Fort St. John, in northern British Columbia, but got lost in snow clouds.

"I was trying to use the last drop of gas in my tank because I was going to use more time to get to my destination. When I saw where I was, it was too late."

"I was checking the radar range, looking for the beam and watching the mountain when the center tank ran out of gas. Just as I reached over to switch on the front tank, the wing tip caught the trees."

"We just went inside the trees," Flores said the two were unconscious.

U.S., Russians Again Debate Berlin Action

Rusk Meets Dobrynin In New Round

Meeting Today Is To See If Serious Talks Are Possible

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union today resume exploratory talks on Berlin.

Only one session is definitely planned: an afternoon meeting between Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. The object is to see if serious East-West negotiations on Berlin are possible.

U.S. officials firmly declined to speculate about the possible outcome of the meeting. But they said privately they expect Dobrynin to expand on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's recent suggestion that the flags of the three Western occupying powers in West Berlin be replaced by the U.N. banner.

In proposing last January that new exploratory talks be held, Moscow gave no indication it is planning to make new proposals.

The Soviets, it is believed here, want to keep this channel of communications open not necessarily on Berlin alone. Dobrynin, some U.S. specialists feel, might bring up other issues, such as the Kremlin's old proposal for a non-aggression pact between the Atlantic alliance and the Communist bloc.

All this, officials stress, is little more than guessing.

Probes and negotiations dating back to the end of World War II have failed to produce any Berlin solution. The last series of U.S.-Soviet talks broke down last October, just before the Cuban crisis.

Youth Hurt In Mishap Remains Hospitalized

Jerry Allen Schaffer, 18, of Winona, injured in a crash on Route 62 near Salem Friday night that claimed the lives of two other drivers, remained in "serious" condition today at Salem Central Clinic.

Two others injured in the same crash were released from the Salem hospital Monday. They are Charles Kendrick, 18, of Salem, and William Syx, 15, of Hanoverton. Both were passengers in Schaffer's auto.

The four-way crash claimed the lives of Leroy M. Hough Jr., 32, of Salem and Leon B. Knag, 38, of Salem R. D. 1.

Miss Jones Resigns City Librarian Post

Miss Frances Jones, librarian at the Carnegie Public Library since 1957, submitted her resignation at the meeting of the Board of Trustees Monday night.

She has accepted the position of consultant for the West Virginia Library Commission and will leave May 15. She is a native of Parkersburg.

John Mosteller, minister of the First Church of Christ and secretary of the trustees, said a testimonial dinner will be held for Miss Jones in mid-April.

Clash In South Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Vietnamese troops fought a heavy clash with Communist guerrillas Monday near the hamlet of Ap Bac, and heavy losses were reported on both sides. An early report said government troops suffered 18 killed and 14 wounded. The Viet Cong reportedly lost 33 killed, including a company commander and several other officers.

It's 'Hogwash'

Rebuttal On News Managing Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pentagon press chief Arthur Sylvester—described as "the villain of the piece" in a congressional inquiry into government information policies—has offered his rebuttal to charges of news management at the Defense Department: "Hogwash."

Sylvester spent three hours Monday telling a House subcommittee about the Defense Department's information program. "I am a newsmen," he said, "and in the somewhat altered role of government newsmen I am trying to give the American people the truth about the operation of their government."

Sylvester, a former Washington correspondent, said he didn't "sell out" the principles of the news business when he went to work for the government.

He told the subcommittee he "certainly will review" an order requiring defense officials to report all their contacts with newsmen and say what they talked about. The order came in for heavy subcommittee fire.

He said the government does not have a continuing right to lie to Americans—but does have a responsibility to do whatever has to be done, "no matter how repugnant," when the nation is confronted with the threat of nuclear war.

Sylvester, chief target of news executives who complained at a hearing last Tuesday that the government has lied to the people, and Robert J. Manning, the State Department's chief public information official, testified as the subcommittee pressed its inquiry into news policies.

The next phase will come behind closed doors, in sessions expected to begin after Congress takes its Easter recess. They will deal with restrictions on newsmen covering the U.S.-backed fight against Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam, secrecy about military missile launchings and why wartime censorship plans are being kept secret.

Sylvester gave his assessment of news management charges after Rep. George Meader, R-Mich., told him, "You, in a sense are the villain of the piece. I want you to defend yourself."

4 From Irondale Nabbed In Entry

Four Irondale men, surprised after breaking into a Wellsville service station early this morning, are being held at Wellsville Jail today after being taken into custody following a chase and a hunt which extended into Jefferson County.

Two of the men fled in a car, abandoning two others at the station, but were picked up within a brief time. The two who were left fled on foot and were apprehended almost three hours later in Jefferson County.

FACING charges of breaking and entering are Carl Lee Walters and his brother, Floyd M. Walters, and Robert McCort and his brother, Ronald L. McCort.

Police Chief John Hephner said Patrolman Denton Kevan received a call about 3 a. m. today that the Martin Sohio Service Station, 2101 Clark Ave. was being burglarized.

A neighbor had heard the noise of breaking glass coming from the rear of the station. As Kevan pulled into the station, either one or two of the men who were inside at the time jumped through a window.

Carl Walters and Robert Mc-

Cort then climbed into their car and took off down Clark Ave., leaving behind Ronald McCort and Floyd Walters, police said.

KEVAN, with the cruiser halted the two on lower Clark Ave. in their car. In the meantime, the other two took off on foot. Kevan did not know they were at the station as they apparently hid.

Kevan had obtained aid from Extra Patrolman Charles Amato and they returned the two to the police station for questioning. Hephner said.

The officers then learned that there had been four men at the station and a call was broadcast to area police to be on the lookout for Ronald McCort and Floyd Walters.

Somehow, the two who had escaped made their way back into Jefferson County.

STATE Highway Patrolman W. R. Baughman of the Wintersville Barracks spotted the two on a county road near New Somerset at 5:49 a. m. and took them into custody.

Baughman had received their

Presses May Roll Monday In Cleveland

Head Of Printers Union Says There's Good Possibility

CLEVELAND (AP)—The head of the striking Printers Union said today that there is a good possibility Cleveland's two blacked out newspapers will resume publication Monday.

Negotiations resume this afternoon with the Printers Union, considered the last big hurdle to settling the record 117-day strike against the Plain Dealer and the Press and News.

Talks also were scheduled today with the striking Machinists, who reportedly are nearing an agreement. A spokesman for that union also set Monday as the date the papers might get back in print.

Clifford C. Hilpert, president of the International Typographical Union's 650 employees at both papers, said he would enter this bargaining session "with an expectant air."

"How long this lasts will hinge on these results," he continued. "I'd say we're hopeful. I think the papers possibly will be out again on Monday."

At a membership meeting Monday, members of the Machinists Union expressed general satisfaction with management's $10, two-year package offer but requested more negotiations on wage benefits, according to James Lafelice, the union's business agent.

Engravers To Study Strike-Ending Terms

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner announced early today that publishers of New York's eight closed daily newspapers had accepted his terms for ending a strike by the photoengravers union. But union negotiators want more time to consider the settlement formula, Wagner said.

The photoengravers are the last of four striking unions—the other three are the stereotypers, mailers and printers—to come to contract terms under a formula worked out by the mayor.

Anti-Castro Union Eyed

Unity Of All Cubans Seen Only Path To Overthrow

NEW YORK (AP) — A distinguished-looking man who knew Fidel Castro as a boy and taught him law at Havana University now seeks a union of all Cubans to overthrow the Castro regime.

"Two revolutionary groups cannot overthrow Castro," said Dr. Carlos Marquez Sterling. "Certainly, five groups cannot do it. If all Cubans unite with the same leader and the same program, then the defeat of Castro will be possible—perhaps not in two or three months, but in six months or a year."

Marquez Sterling reportedly has widespread support from within Cuba to be the leader of a unified struggle against Castro, according to some exiles in this country.

He has said he would be willing to lead such a struggle—provided his countrymen want him to. "If not," he said. "I would be pleased to support any man acceptable to the Cubans. I have no political ambitions after Castro is overthrown. I seek only the freedom of my country."

At 60, Marquez Sterling can look back on a life of opposition to a series of Cuban governments. In 1933, he fought in the revolution that overthrew dictator Gerardo Machado. He opposed the regime of President Fulgencio Batista—"but politically, not as a revolutionary," he adds.

His opposition to Castro is just as calm and just as unswerving. "I have nothing against Fidel personally," he said. "He was a student of mine at Havana University. He was a friend of my eldest son. But I never liked his extremely radical ideas."

A ruggedly handsome man with steel gray hair combed straight back, Marquez Sterling spoke in English with a heavy Spanish accent at an interview Monday night in his comfortable Manhattan apartment.

"Unity among the revolutionaries in Cuba is difficult, since they are not always in communication," he said. "But recently a person came here from Cuba via Mexico and said the revolutionary groups had taken a secret poll and that I had received a majority of votes to lead the Cuban struggle."

"If this is truly so, I told this person, then I will accept that responsibility. I would even go back to Cuba to aid in the struggle. But I will not be the leader of just one faction."

If a unified group can be formed said Marquez Sterling, it will try for United States recognition and support.

Use Of Radar Eyed As Curb For Speeding

Part of a general crackdown on increasing traffic violations noted as a result of spring weather, the police department expects to use its radar timing equipment in the next few days to curb speeders, Chief Americo J. Radeschi warned today.

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen joined Chief Radeschi in a warning to motorists that officers plan a tighter rein on violators.

The officials said they have received complaints of speeding in the last few days from residents of W. 8th St., St. Clair Ave., Pennsylvania Ave., Harvey Ave. and other major thoroughfares.

Other traffic violations are on passing, Chief Radeschi said.

"Experience has shown that traffic violations, particularly speeding, always are on the increase with the arrival of the first pleasant weather of spring," the chief said.

"The natural exuberance induced by the weather seems to

Woman Given Council Post At Salineville

Mrs. Mary Sweeney Will Serve In Place Of John Beadnell

SALINEVILLE — Mrs. Mary Sweeney of West End, former store operator, was appointed a new member of Council in a split vote at a meeting Monday night.

Mrs. Sweeney replaces John Beadnell, who resigned recently because of his out-of-town work schedule.

Councilman Orval Tolson voted against the appointment, which was supported by Councilmen Don Lewis, Clyde Polen, Gillis Earl and Mrs. Kate Weaver.

Mrs. Sweeney was sworn into office by Atty. Thomas Coe, village solicitor.

In other action, Council authorized resurfacing on two miles of village streets under the summer improvement program. Included are Hunter Alley, Twiss Hill, Monroe Heights, Schoolhouse Hill and Jefferson St.

Council also rescinded a previous resolution and approved a new version calling for resurfacing of Main St. (Route 39) by the Ohio Highway Department.

Mayor Stanley Fitch reported he had conferred with Jack Kimball, Division 11 deputy engineer, who explained the State Highway Department could not resurface the street unless parking restrictions are established.

The state bans parking on streets 34 feet wide or less, and Main St. is generally less than that width. However, Council — whose previous resolution had not listed parking limits—requested

Wind May Blow Out Spring Temperature

Those spring temperatures may be succeeded by something near freezing tonight with still colder Wednesday.

The Ohio weatherman said the mercury may dip to a low of 32 to 37 tonight, accompanied by winds and a few light showers. Occasional showers this afternoon were to precede the possible cold snap.

The day's high was to be 62 to 69 degrees. The downtown had a mild 50 this morning at 6.

USW Says Lebanon's Police State Due To Labor Dispute

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — The United Steelworkers Union claims this usually quiet town of 6,000 has become a police state because of a labor dispute.

Not so, say the police.

"We haven't taken sides in this matter and we don't intend to," says Police Chief Charles Cale.

"We merely are doing what we have to do to uphold the law."

Six persons—two of them union organizers—have been arrested since a near-riot at the Production Plating Works plant last Monday, and Al Whitehouse, director of the Steelworkers' District 25, has asked the U.S. attorney general to investigate.

Whitehouse said police deprived union organizers and members of liberty and free speech and he accused them of violating the Federal Civil Rights Act. He wired Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy that "a police state in the worst sense exists in Lebanon today."

The dispute goes back to last year when Huyler's of New York sold Production Plating to the Triton Corp. of Indianapolis.

The plant's 180 employees were fired when Triton President Milton Keiner said last December that he was moving the plant to Indiana. He later changed his mind and started rehiring the workers. When he began hiring workers who had not been employed at Production Plating before, the union obtained an injunction.

Common Pleas Court Judge Warren Young dissolved the injunction earlier this month. A few days later pickets overturned a car and stormed the building, and the arrests began.

"Martial law has not been declared in Lebanon, but the police have taken over since Keiner and the Chamber of Commerce have worked the town into frenzy," Whitehouse charged.

Pickets walked outside the plant Monday. All was quiet and Keiner said the plant was in full production.

Skelton Selected St. Clair Officer

Harry Skelton was appointed a new St. Clair Township police constable at a meeting of the township trustees Monday night.

Skelton, former township constable, was made the township's fifth police constable, and will receive $90 a month in the part-time position. Fifteen applications were received.

The trustees agreed to try out a new slag material offered by Brown Brothers of Midland after meeting with the firm representative, John Boulson.

Discussion on policy concerning street opening permits was held with Harold Sneddon of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. Trustees also discussed insurance protection for Civil Defense members with Al Rutecki, county CD aide, and Herman Heiney, township CD director.

New Officers Named For Elks At Wellsville

New officers were elected by Wellsville Elks Lodge 1040 Monday night at the lodge hall.

Named were Richard Saxton, exalted ruler; George Cornwell, leading knight; Walter Westlake, loyal knight; James Logan, lecturing knight; Paul Todd, secretary; Ray Hamilton, treasurer; Roy Jones, tyler, and Edward Broderick, five-year trustee. They will be installed April 8.

Park Loot Totals $9

LISBON — Only $9.25 was taken in a burglary discovered Monday at the office of the Guilford Lake Park, Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan said today after the investigation was completed by Deputy Howard Gray. The intruder removed a pane of glass from a window and reached through the opening to release a lock on a nearby door, the sheriff said. Walter Burbick, park manager, said nothing else is missing.

the state to conduct the improvement, leaving parking on one side.

An estimate of $1,600 from a Salem concern for repairs to the Village Hall roof was taken under study, and a move authorized to seek new bids.

Estimates will also be obtained for the cost of painting the second floor of the structure — including Council room, mayor's office, Police Department, hallway and front rooms.

Volunteer firemen were granted up to $50 for paint for the interior of the fire station.

Repairs to broken sewer tile and street repairs were authorized. A petition bearing 13 signatures of West End residents, seeking a new street light, was taken under study.

Mayor Fitch reported he is slated to confer today with a representative of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. concerning recent complaints about service.

The mayor reported he had received a list of regulations and recommendations from County Sanitarian Harry Stockdale about the village dump.

Discussion was held on hazards at some buildings, including one on Main St. owned by Michael Keating which is sagging on its foundation, and another owned by Alma Howell of E. 6th St., East Liverpool. Officials are to confer with the owners to determine what is to be done.

Mayor Fitch requested Council action on providing a water line to his home in the West End. The mayor said he had filed a request for water with the Board of Public Affairs, but had been told he would have to pay for the entire line.

Council and Solicitor Coe are to study the request further.

Police Chief Roy Lewis reported he had patrolled 1,120 miles from Feb. 26 through Monday, made one arrest, investigated two accidents and two breaking and enterings, issued five warnings and made 17 miscellaneous investigations.

Prayer was given by the Rev. James McColam. Next meeting is April 8.

Boy's Electrocuton Brings City Warning

City firemen today called attention to the death of a Pittsburgh area youth who was electrocuted Monday while attempting to retrieve a kite from a structure carrying a power line.

Francis Gigic, 14, of Whitehall was pronounced dead at 6:15 at the Duquesne Light Co. substation near his home.

Firemen reported calls have been received about youngsters flying kites near power lines, and issued a warning for parents to prohibit such practice. The firemen and power company officials have repeatedly suggested that kites be flown only in open areas where the danger of contact with power lines is removed.

Steel Exhibit Listed

WEIRTON — Color slide tours of West Virginia and the Weirton Steel Co. will highlight the company's exhibit at the Centennial Home and Industry Fair which will open Wednesday night at 6:30 at the Community Center, continuing through Saturday. The fair includes exhibits of business and industry, a display on the West Virginia Centennial, a food bazaar and crowning of a queen.

Band Parents Receive $1,900 From Hammondsville Stand

Stanton Local Band Parents grossed $1,900 from sales of food and refreshments at the District 8 band and choral contest over the weekend, it was reported at a meeting of the group Monday night in Hammondsville.

Mrs. Alice Pilutti, president, said the group hopes to realize at least $1,000 profit for a fund for new uniforms for the band. The contest was held in Stanton Local High School, and about 3,000 musicians and vocalists participated.

Plans were approved to purchase medals for the Stanton musicians providing they earn a "superior" or "excellent" rating in the state contest April 27 in Columbus. The uniform medals will be purchased instead of food.

In other business, committees were named for activities.

The committee for a record hop Friday night from 8 to 11 at the school is Mrs. Alberta Seevers, Mrs. Elizabeth Olesky and Mrs. Jean Gill. Only Stanton district pupils in Grades 7 through 12 may attend.

The annual band and chorus party will be held April 20 at the school. The committee includes Mrs. Charlotte Hogue, Mrs. Jerry Burton, Mrs. Juel Lawrence, Mrs. Dolly Nelson and Mrs. Ocie Allen.

A nominating committee was named to prepare a slate of officers for the next meeting April 22. It includes Mrs. LuEllen Paisley, Mrs. Shirley Grafton, Mrs. Doris Russell and Mrs. Jane Tolson. The election will be in May, and officers will assume duties in June.

Calcutta Woman Injured On Nail

A Calcutta woman injured on a nail and another Calcutta area woman hurt on jar were among five district residents treated Monday at City Hospital.

Mrs. Jean Adams of Calcutta suffered a puncture wound of the left foot when she stepped on a nail.

Mrs. Delores Lyon, 33, of Mud Ln., Calcutta, received a cut finger of the left hand on a jar at home.

Mrs. Thelma Christian, 1228 Pennsylvania Ave., suffered a laceration of a finger of the left hand on a mixing bowl at home.

Darlene Taylor, 16, daughter of Melvin Taylor of Dewey Ave., was treated for a fractured toe suffered in gym class at school.

Robert Maher, 27, of Beaver Falls suffered a laceration of the forehead while playing basketball.

Koppers May See Gain In Earnings

Stockholders of the Koppers Co. were told at Pittsburgh Monday 1963 earnings should be substantially the same or slightly better than in 1962.

Koppers presently has 11 construction jobs going in foreign countries, and the local company has 27 investments in foreign nations.

Earnings for 1963 were estimated in relation to $3.21 per share netted in 1962 which included a non-recurring capital gain of 34 cents.

Officers said the first quarter normally is the poorest of the year, and in 1963 has been affected further by weather conditions.

The 50-cent quarterly dividend will be approximately earned.

Ex-French Premier Flies To Portugal

LISBON (AP)—Former French Premier Georges Bidault flew to Portugal early today after West Germany refused to let him continue his campaign to overthrow President Charles de Gaulle, police reported.

He faces a similar ban should he try to stay in Portugal.

Bavarian Interior Minister Heinrich Junker said Bidault left voluntarily. He and an aide, Guy Ribeaud, took a Swiss airline to Zurich under the names of "Auberger" and "Offrey," then boarded a Dutch airliner for Lisbon.

Increase Shown In County Road Mishap Damages

Property damage resulting from traffic mishaps in Columbiana County in 1962 totaled $679,590, an increase over 1961 but less than 1960, the Ohio Department of Highway Safety announced.

Property damage in 1961 amounted to $632,060 and in 1960 was $812,480, the statistical report shows.

There were a total of 1,616 accidents, compared to 1,566 the previous year and 1,741 in 1960. Last year's accidents included 546 injury accidents, 23 fatal and 1,047 property damage only accidents.

A total of 29 were killed in accidents last year, including six pedestrians, compared to 20 the previous year. There were 879 persons injured, an increase over the 833 of 1961.

There were 149,220 accidents throughout Ohio last year, a 6 per cent increase over the 140,415 in 1961. Fatalities totaled 1,851—a 10 per cent jump over the 1,679 of 1961.

12 Address Students On Possible Careers

Twelve career discussions were held this morning as the annual Vocational Conference Week at East Liverpool High School got under way.

Speakers discussed careers in elementary education, secondary education, law, flower growing, electrical service and maintenance, photography, civil service, dentistry, retail selling, radio work, dental hygiene and insurance.

The career conferences will continue through Friday with some 1,200 students expected to attend two sessions during the week. Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard was the keynote speaker at a general conference Monday morning.

In Ohio, your dollar will buy more electricity today than 25 years ago!

Your money now buys less of most things, with this big exception. You actually get more electricity for your money than you did 25 years ago*!

Then how come your monthly electric bill is bigger?

It's because you are using 5 1/2 times more electricity—but thanks to that lower unit cost, your bills aren't up in the same proportion.

What has kept the price of electricity low in Ohio? Thanks to Ohio's historically favorable business climate, the electric companies have been able to raise the millions needed to make improvements. Through these improvements they have kept the price of electricity down. Your increased use of electricity has helped, too.

The result: You pay less per unit of electricity today than you did 25 years ago—and less than the people in 31* other states!

A Better Way To Choose Judges

If a resolution now pending before the Ohio Legislature is adopted, Ohioans will vote next fall on a constitutional amendment to permit appointment of the state's Supreme Court and Appeals Court judges.

This bipartisan proposal to get judges out of partisan politics—where they've never really belonged—merits the support of the legislature and the people.

The amendment would permit the governor to appoint a 10-member, bipartisan judicial commission, equally composed of lawyers and lay people. The governor would appoint judges from candidates recommended by the commission.

THE TERM would remain at six years. Upon completion of a term, a judge would stand for re-election by the people, presumably on the merits of his performance as a judge, not on the basis of his politics or the way he spells his name.

In effect, he would be running against himself. Voters would mark a Yes or No ballot to keep him on or put him off the bench.

The idea isn't new. The plan is patterned after one now in effect and, we understand, working well in Missouri.

The proposal has been made in Ohio before. Time, we believe, has demonstrated that it could work to the benefit of the judges and the people if adopted here.

FOR YEARS, Ohio voters have been paying close attention to Bar Association endorsements of judicial candidates. If the candidate looks good to the lawyers, who know his qualifications, who's going to argue?

There is no point in subjecting the judicial candidate to party politicking in primaries and electioneering in elections, especially those who have huge appellate districts or the entire state to cover.

What kind of campaigning can be done by a man who will be expected to play it down the middle when he's on the bench?

What kind of judgment can the people make on the specialized qualifications of a man to handle himself competently on the judicial bench?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Lord Beveridge, famous crusader for the "welfare state" concept, died a few days ago in Oxford, England, at the age of 84. But his ideas didn't die with him. President Kennedy has adopted them currently as the major part of his administration's program—but with one significant omission. It's this omission which is causing Mr. Kennedy political trouble and could spell his defeat in the 1964 election.

Lord Beveridge insisted, for example, that stability of wages and prices is absolutely essential to prosperity. He pointed out that the best-laid plans for a "welfare state" can go awry if this part of the program is mishandled.

The Beveridge report was prepared at the request of the British government in 1944. It was signed by Lord Beveridge alone, but he had at his disposal the whole information resources of the government for investigation and consultation.

The American people re-elected or defeated a president on the basis of good times or bad times. Mr. Kennedy has just predicted an unemployment rate of 7 per cent and a "decade of chronic troubles and recession" if his tax-cut proposals are not adopted. But he might better have said that this contingency will arise, even if a tax cut is granted, unless something constructive is done to eliminate costly strikes and the use of extortionate power by labor unions in the big strikes.

LORD BEVERIDGE paid particular attention to the role of America in the postwar economy and pointed out that basically conditions were the same in England as in the United States with respect to the labor issues.

He favored low tariffs, deficit spending for "welfare" projects, tax reduction and low interest rates—all of which are "new frontier" philosophy. But he considered labor-management relations as the key factor in the success of the "welfare state."

The most significant passages in the Beveridge report read as if they were written this very year, and they could be applied to the New York and Cleveland newspaper strikes. He wrote as follows:

"The right of wage-earners to combine for the purpose of negotiating wages, hours and conditions of work is generally regarded as an essential British liberty. The tradition that they should bargain sectionally, each craft and trade for itself, is old and strong."

"Making the labor market generally a seller's market rather than a buyer's market will increase permanently and markedly the bargaining strength of labor. In so far as this leads to labor, as a whole, gaining a larger share of the total product of industry, it leads to a desirable result."

"But, given the sectional structure of trade unionism, that is not the only possible result. Particular wage demands which exceed what employers are able to pay with their existing prices and which force a raising of prices, may bring gains to the workers of the industry concerned, but they will do so at the expense of all other workers, whose real wages fall owing to the rise in prices."

"The other workers will naturally try to restore the position, by putting forward demands of their own. There is a real danger that sectional wage bargaining, pursued without regard to its effects upon prices, may lead to a vicious spiral of inflation, with money wages chasing prices and without any gain in real wages for the working class as a whole. . . .

"If prices are kept stable, rising productivity will make possible a continuous, if not spectacular, rise of money wages, even if the share of the total product that goes to the wage-earner remains no higher than at present."

"If that share can be increased, wages may rise still more; such a development is desirable from the economic as well as from the moral point of view."

"But the attempt to bring it about must be a coordinated attempt. It must not be a blind groping and pressing by numerous groups, each of which sees only its own sectional interest and tries to exploit its particular strategic advantages, and none of which attempts to judge the position of the whole economy. . . .

"In the new conditions of full employment, wages ought to be determined by reason, in the light of all the facts and with some regard to general equities and not simply by the bargaining power of particular groups of men."

"This suggests, not that there should be continuance in peace of the compulsory arbitration which has been accepted in war, but that collective bargains in each industry should in general include a clause for arbitration by an agreed arbitrator, in default of agreement between the parties."

"THE EMPLOYERS' Association and the union would thus be pledged in advance to accept the arbitration and to give no support of any kind to lockouts or strikes in defiance of arbitration. . . .

"So long as freedom of collective bargaining is maintained, the primary responsibility of preventing a full-employment policy from coming to grief in a vicious spiral of wages and prices will rest on those who conduct the bargaining on behalf of labor."

"The more explicitly that responsibility is stated, the greater can be the confidence that it will be accepted. But both the state and the managers of business have their part to play. . . .

"Strikes and lockouts, though they cannot in a free society be forbidden by law, are anachronisms as indefensible as order by battle. They should give place to reason, but reason cannot work in practical affairs without facts."

"The correlative to acceptance by trade unions of an arbitration clause in all collective bargains would be acceptance by employers in all important industries of standardized accounting practice and their readiness to put all the facts as to profits, costs and margins unreservedly at the disposal of the arbitrator and an expert staff for criticism."

Whatever one may think of the soundness of Lord Beveridge's financial and budgetary proposals, the fact remains he insisted that the program should be regarded as a whole and not as a set of separate recommendations. This is the factor being ignored today by both the President and Congress.

Dog Daze In Spring?

District mailmen must be awaiting with interest the result of experiments being conducted by the Post Office Department at Washington to develop a potion which would keep dogs away from the carriers as they make their daily rounds.

This is a big thing to the postmen, since more than 7,000 throughout the United States were bitten in the last year or so.

Postal officials have seen the potion work in tests at the University of Georgia. This is the procedure: The postman squirts the potion—a mixture of mineral oil, pepper and other ingredients—at the advancing dog. The dog puts his tail between his legs and slinks away. It doesn't hurt the dog and he doesn't want to bother the postman again.

Locally, Postmaster Sam Brown says there are some problem dogs on some routes and he is as anxious as the others to get a trial shipment of the potion.

His one concern, however, is this: "If a dog is running toward the mailman with the idea of biting, will the dog be smart enough to slow up long enough to allow the mailman to draw his spray and fire?"

We realize the situation isn't a laughing matter, but this thought also came to mind: If the spray should prove inadequate, why couldn't the mailmen carry copies of the "Know Your Mailman" series which has been running weekly in The Review in the hope that the dogs can read?

(Editor's Note—There will be nothing but bills in our mailbox for the next few months after that last crack.)

For Science's Sake

All of the district students who participated can be proud of their efforts in the Tri-State Science Fair at Steubenville over the weekend.

A special nod is in order, however, for Thomas Edgell, a senior at East Liverpool High School, who won first places in the chemistry division and received a special plaque for the outstanding entry among 516 in the fair.

It was the second year in a row that the local student has finished high in the competition.

Also in line for congratulations are those who worked behind the scenes to make the fair a success. The exhibit can be included among the worthwhile projects that help sharpen the minds of our young people academically.

Foreign Frittering Can Stop

It has taken a presidential committee to say officially what had been said unofficially so long it had turned into a chant: Foreign aid is a scandal.

It is a scandal, implies the presidential committee, because money is being frittered away in places where the United States stands to gain nothing—not even good will, not even a show of diplomatic complacency.

It is a scandal because money is being frittered away on governments that either are incapable of improving conditions or are unwilling to improve conditions.

The presidential committee does not actually say foreign aid is a scandal. That isn't the way presidential committees handle their responsibilities.

Their function in government is to let the White House take itself off spots that have grown too hot for comfort, and they do this with consummate tact. If they don't, their reports get lost, held up, or released only in part.

THE KENNEDY administration is retreating from the all-or-nothing foreign aid position maintained by the Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower administrations.

By letting it be known in the form of a high-level report that the foreign aid program is open to criticism, it is inviting an onslaught of unprecedented vigor by congressional critics. They now have executive precedent for a slash.

President Kennedy has asked for $4.9 billion, $1 billion more than he asked for last year. It is predicted he will come down from the $4.9 billion total.

It's a good guess Congress will want to come down a great deal more.

This would be in line with prevailing public opinion.

THE FOREIGN aid program has been out of tune with popular thought for years.

There isn't a man in the street and scarcely a child in a playground who couldn't have told Mr. Kennedy what he would not believe until it came to him in an official report—that foreign aid can be, should be and must be brought under control immediately and "phased out" eventually.

Congress very well could start this year by knocking off 50 per cent, or approximately $2½ billion, and continuing to cut the program in half each year until 10 years have elapsed, when the total would have become too insignificant to be worth fighting about.

Aggravations

"Don't get aggravated."
"Stay cool under the collar."
"Quit being upset about things you cannot change."

"Don't worry."
"Take it easy."
"Stay calm."

Have you been given any of this advice recently? Have you been reading books or magazine articles on how to be tranquil and have peace of mind?

Have doctors been telling you, "Umm, this doesn't look good, but don't worry. Spend the next six months in a better climate and be sure to have your personal affairs in order?"

Are you fed up with people who tell you how to avoid heart trouble, peptic ulcers, spastic colitis and headaches by pretending you are a chilled vegetable? Especially when these same people, themselves, are as jumpy as frog legs in a hot skillet, with the frog still attached?

And is it beginning to bug you like a sticktight in your pajamas that everybody seems to be converted to a philosophy that the way to stay in one piece in atomic society is to feel no concern about what is going on, because it is no business of yours?

And are you beginning to wonder what is admirable about sleek, contented people who take no more interest in the passing scene than a herd of dairy cows?

To get to the point, there was this gem of good advice about making a list of your aggravations.

So after finding a pencil and a piece of paper (why are they always so hard to find when you need them?) I jotted down my list.

The idea, is you get all the unprintable, intolerable, scurrilous, scabby stuff in plain sight—you objectify it—then start to feel better.

It was no trouble making the list. I put down 12 master categories without hesitation. It wasn't until I got to subcategories under subheadings that I had to think.

It added up to about 200 things that keep me aggravated, hot under the collar, worried, tense and upset.

All these things I am supposed to brush off as if they were dead flies, bread crumbs, or dandruff. They aren't. They are ants. They do not intend to be brushed off.

They stay in my hair, scamper into my ears, crawl up my nose and down my back. They give me ants in the pants and sneeters in the tweeters. No matter how calm, cool and collected I am to be, they upset me.

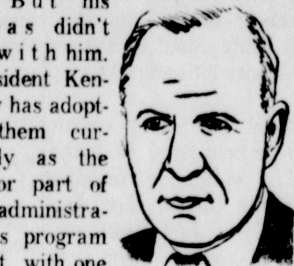

I wouldn't want it to be any other way. It's the penalty of being alive.

"One Bright Spot In Our Economic Picture Is The Achtung Barbed Wire Co. It Has Smashed All Previous Production Figures!"

Private U.S. Groups Fight Castroism

By VICTOR RIESEL

Though the world has been watching San Jose, Costa Rica, some of those who were in the working cadres of the U.S. entourage say it is just as important to keep an eye on Tegucigalpa, Honduras. On that tiny front a major, though unseen, battle is being fought in the hemisphere war.

Against the Soviet's efforts to create a politically and industrially powerful network of Castroite revolutionary labor federations.

Through such revolutionary labor units the Soviets hope to topple the little governments of vital Central America. To counter this, a group of private U.S. citizens has banded together—executives of big U.S. corporations and national leaders of U.S. unions—and appear to be beating the full-time Russian-trained, Cuba-based professional activists at their own game.

This is an untold story. So here is, with more to follow, all based on personal conversations with participants and on documents made available to this column.

WITH VARIATIONS on the theme the undercover struggle in Honduras is similar to that of El Salvador, Panama and the rest of the strategic central bloc.

The Communists' international apparatus would particularly like to put its hands on the Honduras labor movement because the unions there own a radio station, buildings run training institutes, schools for workers children and are active in civic affairs.

They are militant and mature. Their labor movement was the first to obtain a direct loan from the U.S. Agency for International Development for a housing project. In this banana-based economy the tenant farmers are the crucial force.

So the pro-American laborites recently organized 10,000 rural workers. They actually pay dues regularly, which is unusual abroad, even in Europe. This organization drive was the answer to Castro's agents, who succeeded only in some 38 small villages.

There is nothing cloak and dagger about the U.S. citizens' aid to the Honduras labor leaders. It's one of the few times we've actually hit back. This was done by a labor-management-supported organization operating in Washington, called the American Institute for Free Labor Development. Supporting it are funds from such corporations as Anaconda, W. R. Grace & Co., National Mutual Insurance Co., as well as the AFL-CIO.

IT TRAINS Latin labor leaders to go in and fight the Communist activists. For Honduras the institute put four men through its "Internship Program." Typical is a team—Santiago Pineda Puerto and Andres Victor Ariles. They were assigned to the provinces of Atlantida, Yoro and Colon, as organizers for the Federation of Workers of Northern Honduras.

First they helped to organize the Peasants National Association. Then they invaded the territory of the Communist-dominated unions in the banana industry. Their assignment is to overthrow the incumbent Castroite leadership.

They're doing right well. And in the few hours left them each day they go into shoe factories, lard plants and hospitals. There they give anti-Communist orientation lectures to the employees. They are, also, an anti-lie squad which never gives the Communist agitation-propaganda units a chance to operate unopposed and unanswered.

Another of the institute's "interns" is Rafael Valle. He goes into outlying areas to advise the workers on problems ranging from contract negotiations to handling grievances. Thus the employees get to listen to and trust him and not the Communist agents. He, too, gives orientation lectures—and does very well with special films.

And his partner, Miguel Roberto Suazo, who is assigned to the lumber and rubber and sugar fields, are doing a fine job in swinging previously neutral unions toward the anti-Castro alliance.

THERE IS A SIMILAR operation in El Salvador, which has a young labor movement coveted by the Soviets. The American Institute in Washington has trained four men. They operate in the food, pastry, fish, transport, coffee, sugar, textile and construction fields. They act as advisers to the unions, help to elect anti-Communists, go to conventions, organize new unions, and even negotiate for them.

Two of the U.S.-trained specialists who make up a team were advisers at the founding convention of the Food, Beverages and Tobacco Workers, and were themselves elected to important posts.

So successful is the institute operation in Washington that its executive director, Serafino Romualdi, has left for Central and Latin America to set up similar institutes right on the home grounds. Some already are operating throughout South America. Soon one will be opened in Honduras for Central American lands and another in Jamaica for the West Indies.

Now, at least and at last, the Castroites know they're in for a fight on a most vital front.

Supreme Court Decision

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON
Looking for Communist subversion is one thing but using communism as an excuse for prying into the private affairs of private organizations is something else and not to be tolerated.

This in effect was Monday's Supreme Court decision throwing out the conviction of Theodore R. Gibson. It puts a brake on fishing expeditions by legislative committees that lack a legitimate excuse for asking questions.

Gibson was president of the Miami branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People when in 1959 a Florida legislative committee demanded he produce the membership list.

The committee said it wanted the list to ask him whether it included any of 14 persons named by a committee investigator as Communist party members who took part in NAACP affairs.

The chairman told Gibson the committee was first concerned with the "activities of various organizations which have been or are presently operating in this state in the field of race relations."

Gibson looked at the names and photographs of the 14 persons previously identified as Communists or members of front organizations. He said he could associate none of them with the NAACP.

But he refused to produce the list of the Miami NAACP's membership of about 1,000 persons, arguing he didn't have to because of the First and Fourteenth amendments protecting rights of free speech and free association. He was charged with contempt, tried in a state court, convicted and sentenced to six months in jail. His appeal finally reached the Supreme Court.

Justice Arthur Goldberg read the majority opinion putting aside the conviction.

He said the court wasn't denying the "legislative right" to investigate or legislate with "respect to subversive activities by Communists or anyone else."

He said the decision deals only with the manner in which such power is exercised.

"We hold simply," he said, "that groups which themselves are neither engaged in subversive or other illegal or improper activities, nor demonstrated to have any substantial connection with such are to be protected in their rights of free and private association."

He pointed out there was no suggestion that the NAACP or its Miami branch were subversive organizations and that the record of the case indicates the NAACP is against communism.

In other words, the court held that the Florida committee didn't have a real excuse in this case to say it was looking for Communists in the NAACP and without such an excuse it had no right to pry in privacy.

But there undoubtedly will be more cases of stepping over the line and the court in turn will have to decide them on their merits since each may be a little different.

House To Act On Liquor Stores

Ohio Senate Vote Due On Good Samaritan Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The co-called Good Samaritan bill is before the Ohio Senate today.

It is designed to protect licensed medical practitioners and nurses from malpractice suits brought by those treated in accidents and catastrophes.

Expected Senate passage would send it to the House.

An important House vote also was in the offing on a measure to kill off some 35 self-serve liquor stores in the state—establishments which have racked up record sales since their establishment within the last four years by Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch in the administration of former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Customer breakage was given as the principal reason for the change.

The Senate spent a sweaty 90 minutes over three House-approved bills controlling operation of the Ohio conservancy districts. There were nearly a dozen amendments, but only one was approved. It was a bit of language which would permit a conservancy district court—one Common Pleas Court judge from each county in such a district—to approve dissolution of a district.

In all the Democratic-Republican hassle which apparently crossed party lines at random, not an apparently political word was heard.

And the strange part about it was the fact that in passing the series of three bills only one negative vote was registered.

As Sen. Charles Jones, R-Butler, put it quietly to a reporter: "These people are just spoiling for a fight. Some night we'll have it."

The series of three bills would revise laws governing organization of districts, allow conservancy districts to issue revenue bonds to pay for improvements, equipment and land needed for projects (this one is an emergency measure) and a bill to permit conservancy districts to borrow money from the Ohio Water Commission for emergency uses, to be repaid later under permanent financing programs.

Big 'Double Bill' Launching Slated For Canaveral

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A big doubleheader launching scheduled Thursday will end a lull in the U.S. space program. It will not break 1963's over-all pattern as a building year for great exploits expected in 1964 and after.

At 1:30 p.m. (EST) Thursday, the mammoth Saturn is set to thunder aloft on the fourth test flight for this booster—the fore-runner of a rocket which will carry American astronauts to the moon. At 9 p.m., a sleek Delta rocket is to attempt to hoist the Explorer 17 satellite into orbit to investigate the structure of the earth's atmosphere.

Technical or other troubles could delay the launches.

As on three previous Saturn tests, all of them successful, only the first stage will be fired. After 100 seconds of flight, one of the eight engines which power the 165-foot-tall rocket will be shut off to check the vehicle's ability to perform its mission if an engine fails.

Explorer 17 is another of a family of scientific satellites designed for basic research in the world beyond our world. The 405-pound ball is crammed with devices to measure temperatures, composition, pressures and density of the atmosphere at altitudes from 155 to 580 miles.

Bob Friend of the Pirates and Bob Gibson of the Cardinals each had five shutouts during the 1962 season, high for the National League.

Chamber Safety Committee Recommends Traffic Signs

Erection of overhead traffic signs at intersections to aid motorists was recommended by the safety committee of the Chamber of Commerce when it met Monday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce to discuss its general program.

The overhead signs would be in addition to the directional signs the city paints on the streets, the committee said.

It also urged the installation of "walk lights" at the main intersections to help pedestrians in crossing streets.

The recommendations will be forwarded to the City Traffic Commission for action.

The committee decided to continue to co-operate with the Columbiana County Motor Club in a student safety patrol program. Generally, members of the various student patrols in East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester and Newell are recognized at a meeting at which belts and badges are presented and the students hear talks on traffic safety from area police and state patrolmen.

It also decided to continue with its fire prevention program in the fall. The program is held in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week in October.

The committee also agreed to co-operate with the county committees on industrial safety and traffic safety. James Walker was named to investigate methods by which the committee can co-operate with the industrial safety group.

The committee also scheduled a meeting Monday, April 22, to discuss other safety phases, including home safety and building codes.

H. J. English, chairman, presided with nine members attending.

Firemen Hold Ladder Class In Calcutta Training Series

An outdoor class on "Ladders" was held at the 10th in a series of sessions of the fire school of the Calcutta volunteer fire department Monday night.

Chief Robert Lewis of Wellsville, instructor, drilled two teams on ladder practice, and 21 attended. Three types of ladders were used — folding, roof and extension.

Lewis emphasized that firemen must make regular inspections of their ladders, paying close attention to various parts, the beams, rungs, heel and heel plates, and look for cracks in the wood.

During training, firemen were drilled on the arm carry, shoulder carry and overhead carry. Ladders from the Liverpool Township East fire department were loaned for the drill. William Smith, assistant chief, and Virgil Reynolds of East are attending at Calcutta.

Dale Harger, president, conducted brief business. Firemen have started the advanced ticket sale for the Al G. Kelly and Miller Brothers Circus that will play at the Calcutta carnival grounds near the fire hall June 3. Firemen will receive 50 per cent of all advance ticket sales. Tickets are available from any of the firemen.

The Tri-State Firemen's Association will meet Friday night in Lawrenceville, Norman Neal of Calcutta, president, reported.

Chief Laverne Seckman issued a warning to homeowners about uncovered wells and cisterns which pose a danger to youngsters in the summer. The hazards are to be inspected to make sure they are now safe and covered, the chief said.

Next session of the fire school is Monday at 7 p.m. An outdoor meeting will be held on "pumps."

Panhandle's Squires, Constables Will Meet

Northern Panhandle squires and constables will meet Thursday in Wheeling for a school of instruction.

Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland, president of the West Virginia Minor Judiciary Association, will present a report and explain bills enacted at the last session of the State Legislature. The meeting is for law officers and squires from Hancock, Brooke, Ohio and Marshall Counties.

School Psychologist To Talk To Mothers Club At Elkton

Miss Janice Moore was a weekend visitor of Miss Linda Baker of near Calcutta.

Four key differences between the reckless and the careful investor (Recognize anyone?)

Here's how to tell one from the other:

Reckless: Flames into action on a tip.

Careful: Ignores the tip and settles down for a good hard look at the facts. What does the company sell? What are its prospects? What have its earnings been? What dividends has it been paying?

The careful investor has information like this before he invests a penny. Not only to help him make intelligent investments. But to help him choose securities that seem most likely to bring him to his goals. Such as a second income from dividends. Or growth in value of his stock. Or the relative stability of value and income that good bonds can provide.

Reckless: Is happily certain the price can only go up.

Careful: Knows that the prices of stocks and bonds go down as well as up. That a company may falter or fail, may not continue to pay dividends or interest. But he also knows that as America grows he may have the opportunity to grow with it through wise share ownership.

Reckless: Thinks all brokers are alike and any broker will do.

Careful: Knows that brokers differ—though none are infallible. He's aware that a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange is required to observe many Exchange rules. And that he will have the services there of a Registered Representative who has met the Exchange's qualifications. A Member Firm can provide him with many facts essential to farsighted selection of good stock.

Reckless: Plunges with whatever money he has, hoping for fast gains.

Careful: Watches his income like a hawk. Keeps one eye on the future. From the top he draws enough to pay normal living expenses. Next he puts aside what's necessary to provide for any major emergency. On what remains he plans his investments.

If you like the idea of investing systematically, you'll be interested in the Monthly Investment Plan. Through the Plan you can select stock from among America's greatest companies and invest with as little as $40 every three months ($3.08 a week). Lisbon Cuts 1963 Budget To $266,345

LISBON — Council Monday night adopted a 1963 budget of $266,345, or $7,375 less than last year.

A breakdown, with 1962 funds in parenthesis, shows:

General fund, $9,760 ($7,700); contingencies, $2,000 ($2,000); safety fund, $19,250 ($17,750); water fund, $40,644 ($26,069); parking meters, $14,643 ($14,173); Civil Defense, $510.47 ($147).

Cemetery, $13,210 ($17,566); street construction and maintenance, $40,842 ($36,869); motor vehicle, $6,537 ($7,433); police pension, $2,038 ($1,927); general bonds, $18,209 ($16,395); special assessment, $5,705 ($6,057); swimming pool, $6,021 ($6,613); John H. Clarke fund, $2,073 ($2,205); cemetery endowment, $2,843 ($4,030); and sewage, $36,547 ($40,583).

Council appropriated nothing for sewer construction this year, but $8,500 was spent for this purpose in 1962.

In other business, Police Chief Leon Zahndt gave a report on the 14-year-old parking meters and discussed their replacement.

The present meters were purchased June 13, 1949, and have been overhauled two or more times.

The village has 212 meters and the company has offered to provide new mechanisms and repair all casings at a cost of $39.95 each. The village can pay 50 per cent of the collection until meters are paid off, pay $1.50 per meter per month or pay the total cost of $8,469.40.

Council discussed the problem and decided to table action until the next meeting.

Robert Kelm, chairman of the street committee gave a report to Mayor Dean Stockman on repair of the streets. He suggested the village contact state officials on what they intend to do on state routes through village. Repairs were suggested on Maple St., from Beaver St. to S. Lincoln Way through to the railroad tracks, on Washington St., the pool area, E. Chestnut St., Thoms Rd., Cherry St., Stadium Heights and N. Park Pl.

He also suggested gutters on Firestone Hill be repaired or patched where necessary, clean all gutters and catch basins throughout and remedy holes that collect water on Spruce and Morris Sts.

The street committee told Mayor Stockman to hire help if necessary and to have the work done as soon as possible to prevent further damage.

Complaints were reported concerning a shack on Spruce St. and the condition of the Village Center Township dump.

Courtney Pennell, manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., spoke concerning gas consumption during the winter, giving causes for low pressure. He said water getting into the lines caused some trouble but in all it was the best continuous service because of storage systems despite the severe cold.

Mrs. John Spagnoletta of E. High St. complained about a neighbor allowing boys to play basketball in her back yard. She resides across the street. City Solicitor Joseph Baronzi advised her to obtain an attorney and take civil action, as Council cannot regulate what each neighbor does on his property.

Next meeting is April 8 at 7:30 p. m.

Alumni Dinner Held

President Of OSU Addresses 160

"The goal of Ohio State University is to help people succeed in life, not help them fail," Dr. Novice G. Fawcett, university president, told some 160 attending the annual dinner meeting of the Southern Columbiana County unit of the OSU Alumni Association Monday night at the Country Club.

Miss Gladys DeBolt was installed as president, succeeding Eugene Hall.

Other officers named were Dr. Marvin Kinsey, vice president, and Miss Frances Jones, secretary - treasurer.

Miss DeBolt is shown being congratulated by Dr. Fawcett as Hall on the right and Dr. R. Jay Kinsey look on. Dr. Kinsey, a member of the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association and program chairman, introduced Dr. Fawcett.

Countering the charge that a state university takes any student regardless of grades, Dr. Fawcett pointed out there were over 400 valedictorians or salutatorians in last year's Freshman Class and two-thirds of the school's enrollment is from the upper third of high school graduating classes. Over 350 students with averages of 3.5 or better recently attended a scholarship dinner.

He defended the role of huge state universities in a society where 40 per cent more professional and skilled workers will be needed in the next decade. The large school offers a wider choice in type of course and enables the student to identify with his own interest and ability level.

Some of the significant advances at Ohio State include a course in Slavic studies, a Chinese language study program and an interdisciplinary program on space technology. Ohio State is the only university in the Western hemisphere offering a doctorate in geodetic science, Dr. Fawcett pointed out.

The rate of financial growth has been a $10 million gain each year in the last few years and the growth rate in research activities has been even more phenomenal. A vice president was named this year just to head research work.

Outlining some of the fiscal problems, Dr. Fawcett said state taxes pay only 45 per cent of the operating costs. Student fees contributed $7 million last year but have been raised continuously to balance the budget. Tuition now is $330 for a non-resident.

It now costs Ohioans $1,455 yearly and non-residents $1,905 for expenses. Some 6,800 students now reside in dormitories on the campus. The dormitories were not built at state expense and are self - liquidating, he pointed out.

In conclusion, the president said enormous enrollments expected by 1970 will pose serious problems. "Unless more resources are exerted and new resources found, Ohio stands to lose its place in the sun," he declared.

Hall served as master of ceremonies and the Rev. Russell Mase, pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation and led group singing.

Accompanying Dr. Fawcett on his visit were Robert A. Barnes, his secretary; Richard Walters, assistant director of the development fund, and William Heim, assistant alumni secretary.

Visiting delegations included a Northern Columbiana chapter group headed by Floyd Gutterbee, president, and Mrs. Lenore Hoffman and a Mahoning County delegation headed by James Hague, president, and Dr. M. R. Rosenblum, president-elect.

branches and set out for the Alaska Highway, about 60 miles away. Leaving Miss Klaben at the lean-to, he slogged through the snow in subzero temperatures, he said, and built another shelter three miles farther on.

This was in open country and, working doggedly for three days, he managed to tramp out an "S O S" in the snow.

It was this signal that bush pilot Chuck Hamilton saw Sunday and that led to the rescue.

"I did not know if I was going to make the road, but I had faith I was going to be found," Flores said. "Yes, I had faith because I have faith in the Lord."

While walking, he said, he sang a lot—hymns and popular songs.

Hamilton flew to the cabin of two Indians, Charlie Porter and Louis Boya, about 10 miles away. They set out through the forest at once and reached Flores Sunday night.

They gave him some bread and moose meat and the next morning helped him down the mountain to a rescue plane.

Hamilton flew back Monday morning to pick up the girl. The closest he could get his ski-equipped plane to her was three miles.

He trudged through the soft snow on snowshoes, the hardest trip he said he had ever made.

"The first thing she said to me," he reported, "was 'you're the man that saved me. I'd love to kiss you, but I can't walk.' She asked me to come and sit beside her. When I did, she kissed me."

Picking her up, Hamilton carried Miss Klaben piggyback the three miles to his plane, falling several times because of soft snow.

"I knew she was in pain, but she didn't cry out," he said. "If it had been me, I don't think I'd come out of it even though I am experienced at this game."

"Oh God, I'm alive and the world's my home," cried Miss Klaben when she reached the rescue center.

"She wanted to see things," said her mother in Brooklyn. "To see something of life and the world before settling down. And she managed to do it."

Speeding

lead to an increase in traffic and a rise in the number of violations."

But speeding remains the major cause of complaints, Chief Radeschi added.

Owen commented that the advent of warm, dry weather means street department crews will be able to begin work soon on repainting traffic control markers, particularly street center lines that were worn off during the long, hard winter.

Mechanics And Auto Dealers To Negotiate

A committee from Ceramic City Auto Mechanics Local 1019 will meet with the East Liverpool Auto Dealers Association Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Mike Turk office to continue negotiations for a new contract.

No progress has been reached in past negotiations. The local has asked approval to hold a strike if voted by the members. The sanction is being sought from the International Association of Machinists, CIO-AFL, according to Kenneth Schneidmiller, local secretary.

Tom Kelly is president of the local. Not all the members are employed in business operated by the association.

Crash Hurts 3 In County

A North Benton woman and two Sebring woman passengers were injured Monday afternoon when her car was rammed by a truck on Route 62 west of Salem, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A 1962 sedan operated by Margaret Nestor, 56, of North Benton was headed east and making a turn when it was struck by a tractor - trailer truck operated by Ralph Sherrick, 39, of Conneville, Pa.

The woman driver suffered leg injuries, and Nona Larkins received head and spine injuries, and another passenger, Mildred Way Waugaman, 55, received cuts and bruises.

They were taken to Alliance City Hospital. Officers charged Sherrick with failure to halt in the assured clear distance.

Officers charged O'Toole with reckless operation. He was treated at Salem City Hospital for cuts of the left leg. The mishap occurred at 3:55.

2 City Brothers Fined In Theft Of Gasoline

Two city brothers were fined $75 and costs each on charges of petty larceny at hearings Monday before Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville.

James Lovett, 20, and Stanley Lovett, 22, both of 5th Ave., La-Croft, were arrested when caught siphoning gasoline from a truck in Wellsville early Monday morning.

The two were spotted by Patrolman Frank Daniels with two cans and hose coming from behind the garage of the Diona Trucking Co. on Route 45 near the Roadside Park.

They had gasoline taken from one of the trucks behind the building, police said. Daniels took the two to jail and then returned and obtained the cans and hose.

description from Wellsville police earlier when he was in the area to investigate an accident.

Baughman turned the two over to Jefferson County Deputy Sheriff Thomas Blackburn, who was also in on the search. He returned the two to Wellsville.

After further questioning this morning at the station, police said Ronald and Floyd admitted they were the ones inside the station.

CARL and Robert both are 18. All four will be arraigned at a hearing this afternoon before Judge James MacDonald at Lisbon on charges of breaking and entering.

Police said the four had been picked up by Jefferson County authorities on numerous occasions on various charges.

Apparently nothing was taken at the gas station.

2 Drivers Uninjured

No one was injured in a collision of two cars on the Calcutta-Cannons Mills Rd. Monday, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A car driven by Genevieve D. Webber, 49, of R. D. 2 made a turn into a private drive and collided with a truck operated by George Kernich, 33, of Lisbon R. D. 3.

LOOK AT THIS DIFFERENCE IN CARBURETOR CLEANLINESS!

(c) SOHIO, 1963

If your carburetor is dirty, Boron® will clean it!
If your carburetor is clean, Boron will keep it clean!

CARBURETORS CAN GET DIRTY AROUND THE THROTTLE PLATE Notice the dirt deposits in the carburetor section on the left. They have formed a hard ledge around the throttle plate. The cause of the problem? Tiny particles of dirt. The air that comes into your carburetor contains these particles. They are too small to be caught by your air cleaner. They can stick to carburetor walls in the throttle plate section and, in time, build up into deposits. This condition can block the air flow to your engine when you're idling. Result: stalling, rough idling, wasted gasoline.

CARBURETORS GET CLEAN, STAY CLEAN WITH BORON Look at the carburetor section on the right. No deposit here! The special Carburetor Cleaner in Boron dissolves dirt deposits and washes them away. Because the deposits are hard, the cleaning process may take time. But the end result will be a Boron Clean Carburetor. Once clean, your carburetor will stay clean with regular use of Boron. The special Carburetor Cleaner is so effective that it keeps new deposits from forming! Always use Boron to keep your carburetor clean.

Boron cleans your carburetor while you drive...and keeps it clean

Chester Holds Car In Wreck

Chester police have impounded the car of an East Liverpool man which apparently was involved in a collision on 1st St. at Carolina Ave. Sunday night.

Charles Hanley, 51, of Weirton reported to police his car was struck in the rear by a 1954 sedan while he was halted for a traffic signal.

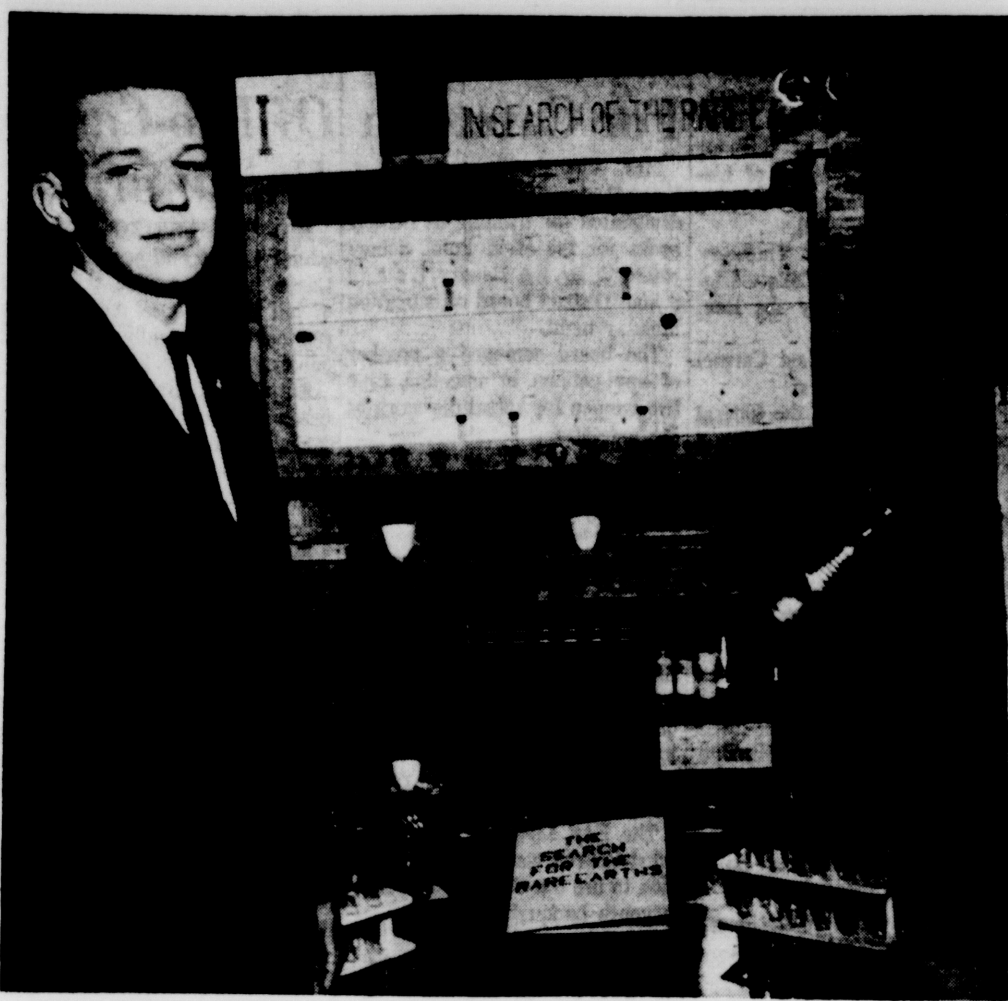

Hanley said the other driver told him to pull over to the side of the street, and he would follow. When Hanley did, the other motorist drove away.

Patrolman Clifford B. Bout later spotted the car parked at 6th and Carolina Ave., and took into custody the owner, Lawrence Keuper, 29, of Dresden Ave.

Keuper denied having been the driver in the mishap, but subsequently said he would pay for the damage to Hanley's 1963 sedan, totaling $164.

Patrolman Bout said Keuper's car will remain impounded until the damage is paid.

Hanley identified the car through its license plate and appearance, but was unable to identify the driver, Bout said.

"Special Plates" Deadline April 15 In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — Holders of special-number West Virginia auto license plates have until midnight April 15 to submit applications to keep the same numbers for another year. Motor Vehicles Commissioner Jack A. Nuckols said Monday.

He added that after April 15 the number will be "up for grabs". About 4,000 special plates, which cost holders an additional $5, were issued for the current license year which will expire, for passenger cars, June 30.

Nuckols' department has new statutory authority to cancel drivers' licenses and other cards and permits in instances in which bad checks are submitted or fees otherwise are not paid upon reasonable notice or demand.

Two legislative acts compelling the authority took effect March 6. One permits the motor vehicles department to cancel and recover a driver's license when a check or other medium of payment has been dishonored or refused by the bank upon which it was drawn.

The other enactment gives the department similar authority to cancel, suspend or revoke any and all registration cards, plates, certificates of title and other licenses when payments on checks are refused.

Reminder Given On Deadline For City Tax Filings

City residents who work out of town and are required to pay the city income tax were reminded today they have only until April 15 in which to pay for the last quarter of the 1962 tax and file an estimated return and pay the first installment of the 1963 tax.

Warning that there are only 15 office days before the deadline, Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said there are 2,148 individuals who still must file.

The tax office has 3,782 individuals listed as subject to the municipal tax but only 1,634 have filed, Wilkinson explained.

Taxpayers who fail to file by April 15 face a $5 penalty, he warned. No extensions will be granted except in emergency cases and then only if a written request asking an extension is submitted, he continued.

Residents visiting the tax office in the basement of City Hall should bring with them a statement of earnings for last year. The city tax was in effect from March 2 through Dec. 31.

In addition to making the last payment for 1962, a declaration of estimated income for 1963 and payment of at least one fourth of the amount must be completed by April 15, Wilkinson concluded.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Can you save this marriage? My wife has become very friendly with a woman whose reputation isn't worth a plugged nickel. She has gone through three or four husbands. I'm not sure which.

This woman got my wife interested in mixed-league bowling. At least three nights a week they are out until 2:00 a.m. — sometimes later. Last month they went to Toledo on an overnight bowling trip. Next week they plan to go to Columbus.

I phoned the woman yesterday and told her to leave my wife alone. She read me off in pretty salty language, and said my wife is old enough to choose her own friends.

We have two children who are beginning to wonder what's going on. The house is always a mess and I've had to cook dinner for myself and the kids more times than I care to admit. Please give me some advice. — THE SPARE.

Dear Spare: The woman is right when she says your wife is old enough to choose her own friends. And if this is her choice she doesn't deserve the respectability of home, husband and children.

Tell her she can go with you to a marriage counselor or a clergyman and discuss the problem. (Something is wrong or she wouldn't be running around.) If she is unwilling to make the effort to get the marriage back in working condition then tell her to take all her clothes the next time she goes on an overnight bowling trip.

Relax, Sis

Dear Ann: I was interested in your reply to the woman who was upset because her guests insisted on helping her clear the table and do up the dishes in spite of her protests.

When we entertain guests I'm perfectly relaxed about leaving the dishes until they say good-night. But this one friend of mine is an absolute nut about orderliness. She just can't stand disorderliness.

I've begged her not to clean up, but she may as well be deaf. She goes right ahead, clears the table, washes the dishes, puts everything away, dumps the garbage, scours the sink and bleaches the dish cloth.

I can't tie her to a chair, Ann, and she simply insists on cleaning up in spite of my pleading. In recent months I've let her go ahead and do it. Am I being rude in permitting a guest to work while I sit in the living room? — SOUTH DAKOTA

Dear Dakota: Relax. You're doing her a favor. This woman obviously has a compulsion to clean — so let her enjoy herself and don't give it another thought.

Dear Ann: I'm 17 years old but everyone takes me for 19 because I'm so mature.

Three months ago I started to date a man who works at a supermarket. We saw each other about five nights a week. Then for no good reason he stood me up on a Friday night.

I worried myself sick, thinking maybe something terrible happened to him. The next morning I telephoned him at work and he said "I forgot." He has been very busy ever since and I have not seen him.

Yesterday I heard he's been dating a girl who looks like me.

Do you think this girl is a substitute? Please tell me. I must know. — IN PIECES.

Dear In: If this boy were interested in you, he wouldn't need a substitute. Forget him. He doesn't have the nerve to tell you he has found a spring replacement.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Towboat Sinks After Striking Wall At Lock 15

NEW MARTINSVILLE, W. Va. — The towboat Richard Moley sank in the Ohio River Monday after striking the guide wall at Lock No. 15 here, lock employees reported.

The five crew members were rescued without injury by lock employees using an outboard motorboat. The Moley is owned by the Ohio Valley Towing Co. of Pittsburgh.

The Moley had proceeded downstream after putting ashore five barges during the night at Powhatan, Ohio. New Martinsville is about 20 miles downstream from Powhatan.

The Moley turned about and started back upstream after being notified one of the barges — a chemical barge — was leaking benzene into the river.

The fumes, apparently sucked in through the mine ventilation system, made three employees ill at the Powhatan No. 3 mine of the North American Coal Co. The mine, which employs 160 men, was closed for the day because of the fumes and the miners were sent home.

'Good Stuff' Club Analyzes Judy Garland

A couple of small but disgruntled fourth graders of my acquaintance have started a club called the Bad Stuff Club. It has a membership of two and its meetings, as far as I can determine, are dedicated to the cataloging of gripes, gruff parents, broken guns, empty banks, leafy vegetables.

Alan Gill

I've just started a club of my own, called the Good Stuff Club. The Good Stuff's meetings consider only one subject: Judy Garland.

LET'S ADMIT IT, there was some bad stuff on Judy's recent show; but we Good Stuff Clubbers will save the gripes until the end and we'll tone them down to a whisper, because we don't want to be thrown out of the club, do we?

The important thing is, Judy hasn't looked better since she met us at the St. Louis fair. She's thin and tiny and she has more energy than the peppercorn in a policeman's whistle.

She looked fine the other night in a tight black dress that glinted and in a tight black dress that didn't; she was delicious in a long black dress that had a big fur thing down the back (these fashion tips are thrown in free of charge — a lagniappe); she was devastating in a black shirt that had been scissored into ribbons, and under a black fedora which came to rest on her right eyebrow.

IF THIS VISION in black had a great moment last Tuesday night on her CBS special ("Judy Garland and Her Guests, Phil Silvers and Robert Goulet"), then it came with the song "By Myself."

She started the thing on a note of soft, tremulous self-pity, chewing on her lower lip to nip off the tears. Then, subtly and suddenly, the mood changed. The back went straight. The hands flew out. The note hardened. And the attitude was a tough "the devil with it all, I'll do just fine."

The lady acted the song with every fiber of her. She dared to turn her back on us for a minute and strut about, flinging a challenge.

She used her arms and hands constantly — fingers clenched at her chin, fists pounding the air, and then alighting sassily on her hips. As the song came to its smashing end, she threw up her right hand in front of her face as though fielding a line drive, twisted suddenly on her heel, and stalked off.

JUDY SANG lots of other songs, opening with "Hello, Bluebird" and finishing with "I Could Go On Singing." (In between there were nice songs like "Get Happy" and irritating songs like "I Happen To Like New York.") But there was no other number that came within shouting distance of "By Myself."

Next season, Judy Garland will be on every week with an hour program, and CBS would like us to know that Tuesday night's special was a foretaste of her new show.

I worry about that. I worry that the pace will wear her out — and us, too — because her voice the other night was scratchy and slurred.

The four "acts" were shot on four successive nights, in 15-minute segments, before a fresh audience each night. A weekly show would offer her no such comforts.

ABOUT THAT "slur." Miss Garland has developed a gruff Tallulah Bankhead delivery on some songs.

"Hello, Bluebird," for example, has been retitled "Hello, Bluebird" by the lady. In her "This Can't Be Love" and "Almost Like Being in Love" twosomes, she rendered "well" as "wurr," "from" as "furr," "peel" as "peer," "falling" as "fouring," etc.

I hope it's just an affection and that she can get rid of it. Love songs should not sound as though they're being sung through novocaine.

Is this treasonous talk from a Good Stuff Clubber? Nope. We charter members must protect our girl from bad songs, bad habits, and exhaustion.

I think, too, that Phil Silvers should be protected from weak comedy material and Robert Goulet protected from a certain arch posturing that could be his undoing. The moment they come up with funny jokes and a winning stance, they'll be sworn into the club.

These Intruders Got 'Well-Cured' Tobacco

SALINEVILLE — Several packages of old cigarettes were stolen from a vending machine in a former restaurant just outside the village limits on the east end of town over the weekend.

The rear door of the former D. & M. Restaurant was forced open to gain entrance. The Columbiana County sheriff's office was notified.

Chief Roy Lewis of Salineville was called first. He relayed the call to the deputies after learning the restaurant is outside his jurisdiction.

Lewis said the restaurant has been closed for two years and the machine never had been removed.

The Saluki, swiftest and perhaps the oldest of purebred dogs, is unexcelled as a hunter on desert sand and rocky waste. To Moslem nomads, who consider other dogs unclean, the Saluki is not a dog at all but a gift from Allah.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Shape-Ups Help Reducer Toward Goal

Teeners, it's fun to hitch your will to a goal and let your imagination soar like a kite in a brisk breeze. Keep your eye on your goal and your will carries you there. It's a magic moment when you prove this to be true.

Ida Jean Kain

Latch on to this potent secret. Visualize yourself the way you want to be: a hand-span waist and a honey of a figure. By picturing wholeheartedly, you can bring that dream girl into reality.

The principle is this: We can become what we picture more surely and more easily than what we determine. Why is this true? Because imagination is of the spirit. Imagination, which is our picturing faculty, is more powerful than the will. Believe this! Anytime the will and the imagination are in conflict, the imagination wins.

HOW DO YOU see yourself in your mind's eye? Slim - waisted and dashing - or slumped in a lump? The mental picture you make tends to actualize itself in fact.

But don't confuse the word image with wishful thinking. Imagining is purposeful picturing. Sit quietly and practice seeing yourself in your mind's eye exactly the way you yearn to become.

Make this a twice daily session. Never miss. Hold the picture in your mind, see this clearly in your mind's eye. This system really pays off!

Dramatize your exercise action with word pictures, words that spark your imagination. Try it. Stretch up...pulling slim through the middle measurement. With arms aloft, "climb" an imaginary ladder, reaching up with alternate hands. Every rung goes higher - higher! Reach for the stars, pulling up and in slim.

Follow through with a side-bend, chanting stretch-and-bend-for-a-willow-waist. Get the picture of yourself — a lithe, lissome lassie, loving the silken-slim feeling.

It's fun to soar with the momentum of a movement. Try this: Swing both arms toward the right, sideways and up...then swing both arms toward the left.

On the third swing, circle arms up and over with a suspended lifting motion. Wheel! It's almost like dancing. Swing again, the momentum may carry you a step to the side, without effort. Keep swinging.

GRAB HOLD of the door jamb with your right hand, and swing forward with left leg and arm, keeping knee straight. Then swing leg and arm rearward, bending forward at waist so you can reach a 45 degree angle with the leg. The aim is to tone that bustle of muscle on the back of the hips.

Teeners, you don't have to be fat and bulky. Shape-ups are fun when you picture yourself in the swim.

Send a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet, "For A Slimmer Midriff." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

City Library Adds New Films With Easter, Spring Themes

The Carnegie Public Library has added several new still films to its growing collection of some 300 subjects, with emphasis on interests of the spring season.

Three new subjects can be used with adult church groups in the Easter season — "Holy Week in Jerusalem," "Making the Lord's Prayer Our Own" and "Easter Round the World."

For intermediate groups there are two new films which emphasize foreign customs, spring in India, "Babu and the Easter Fair," and spring in Korea, "Easter Song." Little tots also come in for their share of fun with "Rabbit Who Had Red Wings," "Mary's Easter Lamb," "The Bunny's Easter Surprise" and "Rackety Rabbit and the Runaway Easter Eggs."

Scout groups and Camp Fire Groups which contemplate nature projects will find a growing supply of pictorial subjects on nature fields: "Rocks Around Us," "American Flowers," "Audubon's Birds," "The Age of Mammals" and "The Earth Is Born."

Youth groups who anticipate Indian study will find two types of visual assistance at the Library. Cub Pack 36 of the Longs Run Presbyterian Church in Calcutta has a display on eight Indian tribes. The project, which was under the direction of Mrs. Allen Lense, has a three - dimensional display of homes and hunting and fishing equipment of the Indians.

A set of three filmstrips which also prove enlightening to Cubs or Bluebirds is "Indians of the Northeast Woodlands," "Indians of the Northwest Coast" and "Indians of the Plains. Buffalo Hunters on Horseback."

Older groups of girls would benefit from instructional aids on home economics: "Caring for the Baby," "Houses U.S.A." and "Color Ideas...Your Key to Good Decorating."

Fifty subjects are available on travel abroad.

The library will mail a copy of the filmstrip catalog to interested residents who phone 385-2048.

36 days that proved Ford's total performance!

RIVERSIDE, CAL.

January 20

In a total performance test of brakes, suspension and steering on the twisting Riverside sports car course, Dan Gurney drove a Ford hardtop to victory over 43 other stock cars. The 500-mile grid demonstrated Ford's superior stamina and road-holding.

MONTE CARLO

January 23

The '63½ Falcon V-8 Sprint made their debut with a fantastic showing in the 2,500-mile Monte Carlo Rallye. Through Europe's worst winter weather they placed 1st and 2nd in class. Besides this... one Sprint defeated every entrant in the Rallye's six special stages.

PURE OIL TRIALS

January 27

In a competition designed to test all-around performance, Fords were over-all winners in Class I and Class II in the Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona. Their total performance design added up to most total points in gas economy, acceleration and braking events.

DAYTONA, FLA.

February 24

Daytona "500" history was made when '63½ Fords blazed into the first five places! Since Daytona is the toughest track in the world, this was eyewitness proof that Ford's total performance design can endure the maximum automotive punishment.

... and here are the 63½'s that gave total proof of Ford's durability and handling!

You may never see a competitive auto event. But at 30 mph on rain-slick blacktop, in the close-packed rush of 5 o'clock traffic, on a twisting mountain road, the results are important to you. On every slippery surface you need the kind of roadability that placed five Fords out front in the Daytona "500." On every busy cross street — you want the brakes that won on Riverside's sports car circuit. Your engine will hold up better through years of turnpike use because it's as beautifully balanced as Falcon's Monte Carlo V-8's. The winning competition car is bound to be a great road car — and Ford is the big winner!

Rigid Controls, Ban On Boxing Sought After Death

By The Associated Press
The death of Davey Moore from ring injuries brought mixed word of censure for the sport and praise for the champion, jolted legislative leaders into steps aimed at further regulating or banning professional boxing and leaving his conqueror on the ropes.

Although the main damage causing Moore's death was described by a pathologist as "something that could happen on your front porch," it filled newly crowned champion Sugar Ramos with indecision about defending the featherweight title he took from Moore in last Thursday's fatal fight.

Ramos, his eyes black from Moore's blows and red from weeping, repeated over and over "no se, no se nada (I don't know; I don't know anything)," when he was asked Monday if he planned to fight again.

Legislators, meanwhile, were calling for more rigid controls on the sport—or its abolition—while Pope John XXIII castigated "fist fighters" as "contrary to natural principles" and "barbaric to pit brother against brother."

Among the more vocal legislators were Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., who called for federal regulation of boxing, and Rep. Hugh L. Carey, D-N.Y., who said he will introduce legislation to outlaw the sport.

"We have lost two courageous champions in a year—Benny Paret and Davey Moore," said Carey. "Who will be next?"

Kefauver said he would re-introduce his bill—which died in committee last session—for establishing a federal boxing commission with broad authority to regulate the sport.

Kefauver said he understands Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy has agreed to have the commission established in the Justice Department, a move which Kennedy greeted with reluctance previously.

"I don't want to outlaw boxing to clear it up," Kefauver emphasized, but then added "either it has got to be cleaned up and boxers protected or it ought to be abolished."

In New York State, where Paret died little less than a year ago after being knocked out in a welterweight title fight by Emile Griffith, a legislative committee will recommend the continuation of boxing under more stringent safeguards.

But in California, Connecticut, Illinois, Oregon and New Jersey

—all major states where boxing has flourished in the past—officials promised to push for action against boxing.

Gov. Edmund G. Pat Brown of California, where the Ramos-Moore fight was held, steadfastly held that "boxing should be abolished." He said he would ask the legislature to submit a constitutional amendment to the voters in 1964 to eliminate boxing in the state.

On the other side of the argument were such men as James J. Farley, former postmaster general and onetime chairman of the New York State Boxing Commission and Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner.

Farley said "the percentage of fatalities in boxing is extremely low. I see no reason to outlaw the sport." Gov. Kerner called boxing "a good manly art if managed safely and above-board."

McCall Dismissed As Beaver Cage Coach

Applications Being Taken For Position

Tom McCall, head basketball coach at Beaver Local High School for the past two seasons, was dismissed from his duties by a unanimous vote of five members when the Beaver Local Board of Education met Monday night.

The board at its meeting of March 11 had expressed dissatisfaction with the basketball program at the school and at that time McCall was given an opportunity to resign as head coach.

McCall refused to resign, pointing out that he couldn't see any reason for resigning. "I made one mistake this season. I didn't win enough games," was his comment several weeks ago when he was told he wouldn't be re-hired.

The 32-year-old coach had an overall record of 6-32 in two seasons. His 1961-62 team showed a 5-14 mark, but last year the Beavers only won one game while losing 18.

A native of East Palestine, McCall succeeded Jack Frontone as head coach at Beaver Local after serving as assistant coach in charge of freshmen and assistant varsity football coach. He was appointed to the head basketball job on May 22, 1961.

Before coming to Beaver Local, McCall was head basketball coach at Mantua-Crestwood, a High School near Hiram, Ohio where he showed an 8-9 record in the 1958-59 season. He is a graduate of Kent State University.

McCall said he would like to remain in coaching.

Meanwhile, the Beaver Local Board of Education announced that it would accept applications for the head basketball post.

Investigation Continues

Butts Files $10 Million Libel Suit Against Post

ATLANTA (AP)—Investigation into the alleged rigging of a college football game continued today after a $10-million libel suit was filed against the magazine which published the rigging charges.

Wallace Butts, former Georgia athletic director, filed the damage suit in federal court Monday against the Curtis Publishing Co., publishers of the Saturday Evening Post.

Butts, who resigned as athletic director in February, charged in the suit that the Post has ruined his coaching career of 35 years by "willfully, maliciously and falsely" publishing a libelous article. The suit asks $5 million in punitive and $5 million in general damages.

George Burnett, an Atlanta insurance salesman who was questioned by state and federal investigators Monday, was quoted in the Post as saying he overheard a telephone conversation between Butts and Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama.

Burnett said in the Post article that Butts gave Georgia football secrets to Bryant eight days before the Sept. 22 game

Cincy Youths Get Carried Away By Team, Fined

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati Bearcats lost the final game in the NCAA basketball tournament last weekend, but several hundred youths put on a demonstration anyway.

Eighteen of them got so carried away with the spirit of the thing that they were convicted of disorderly conduct Monday in Municipal Court.

One youth was fined $50 and costs for throwing a bottle from a hotel window. The others were fined costs or costs remitted.

University of Cincinnati spokesmen have argued that UC students were not guilty of the rowdiness and the court docket supported them. Only two of those convicted attend the university.

Honorable Mention Spots Go To Porter, Nemenz

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The kids who may become the college stars of tomorrow make up the 1962-63 Class A All-Ohio high school basketball team named for The Associated Press.

Speed, size and shooting are trademarks of the scintillating quintet selected from among the 445 Class A schools in the state. More than 120 newspapers, radio-television stations and 300 coaches participated in the balloting with selections based on pre-tournament play only.

Top honors went to Mike Hyde of Wakeman Western Reserve as Player of the Year and Bob Gwin of York Township in Sandusky County, who was tabbed the small school coach of the Year.

Both won their accolades in close competition that saw Joe Pangrazio of Dennison St. Mary come in as second best player.

Others in the race for coaching honors were Bob White, Columbus University; Joe Sproul, Waynesfield-Goshen; Glenn Bowden, Dennison St. Mary; Al Gundrum, Celina Catholic; Jerry Suess, Greenford; Vern Hooper, Simon Kenton and Bob Morrison, Colono Crawford.

Hyde, a rugged 6-foot-8½ forward, hit the nets at almost a 27-point-per-game clip and snared 19 rebounds a game. He hit 52 per cent from the floor in registering 457 points in 17 contests.

The top scorer on the first team, however, is a 5-9 hotshot from Powhatan, Rob Ben Wiley. Wiley, an "A" student and president of his senior class, tallied 519 points for a 28 per game average. Described as a brilliant dribbler and ball-handler, Wiley's chief offensive weapon is a nifty fade-away jump shot.

Rounding out the first team are Wayne Taubken, Wapakoneta St. Joe and John Howard of Columbus University.

Gwin, 32, the father of four and a Maumee High School grad, has coached at York since his graduation from Bowling Green in 1953. He attended college on a football scholarship and played no basketball for the Falcons.

His teams have piled up an impressive 150-65 record during his 10-year tenure and his current squad (24-2) is in the state high school tournament this weekend.

The second All-Ohio team, captained by Jim Connelly, Marietta St. Mary, also includes Sam Gebhart, Bucyrus Holmes Liberty; Ron Volpe, Yorkville, 6-0, 165, 27; Jim Connelly, Marietta St. Mary, 6-3, 190, 26; Bob Klopfer, Germantown, 6-0, 160, 24; Paul Jewell, Summit Station, 5-8, 164, 28.

On the third unit are Wayne Young, Hamden, 6-2, 168, 28; Paul Steffani, Bettsville, 5-11, 160, 29; Jim Kress, Columbiana Crestview, 6-7, 205, 28; Duane Miller, Dalton, 6-0, 160, 28; Ken Turner, Cincinnati Depores, 6-2, 150, 18.

Backward Plunge Onto Ropes Seen Cause For Death

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A coroner's autopsy shows that Davey Moore suffered three times the amount of brain damage originally indicated by an encephalogram after his fatal fight against Sugar Ramos.

Moore's backward plunge onto the lower strand of the ropes is believed by autopsy surgeons to have caused the massive damage that resulted in his death early Monday. The scores of jolting lefts that Ramos rained to the head and jaw of the featherweight champion Thursday night were described as contributing factors.

Coroner Theodore J. Curphey, reporting the findings of a two-hour autopsy, said there were small hemorrhages and edema of the structures of the brain stem and also "large contusions in the midline of the cerebral hemisphere which were probably one of the big factors in bringing about this man's demise."

In retreating from Ramos' savage attack in the 10th round, Moore plunged backward into the ropes. The back of his neck struck the lower strand near the turnbuckle and his head snapped sharply toward his chest.

This fall, Dr. Curphey said, caused extensive brain damage, but he said blows to the jaw could have been contributing factors. A small hemorrhage was found on the right side of Moore's brain, cuts and contusions were found inside the fighter's lips, and minimum hemorrhages were on the skin of the right temple and around the joint of the right jawbone.

Ironically, a fighter may have been saved from injury Monday night because a thick foam-rubber covering on the ropes was added after Moore's death.

Pete Gonzales of Hollywood, Calif., struck the back of his head on the lower strand in the third round after being knocked down by Wilhelm von Homburg in a fight at Hollywood's Moulin Rouge. But Gonzales, who had been floored four times in the first two rounds, recovered shortly after the referee had counted to 10.

Dr. Curphey declined to be drawn into a discussion whether boxing should be outlawed in California. Moore lost his mouthpiece early in the fight, and although it was restored at the end of the round, Curphey said, "I think the rules should require mouthpieces be placed back at once."

He said the absence of the mouthpiece may have intensified the effects of the facial blows that caused hemorrhaging in the region of the temple.

"We have a long way to go to protect human beings in contact sports," said the coroner.

Ramos, who inflicted fatal injuries on Jose Tiger Blanco in Havana in 1958 in scoring a knockout, flew to Mexico City Monday after expressing his sorrow to Moore's widow, Geraldine. Ramos is a Cuban refugee who now makes his home in Mexico.

Mrs. Moore said she did not blame Ramos. "Davey's death was an act of God," she said.

The body of the 29-year-old boxer will be flown to Columbus, Ohio, Wednesday for funeral services.

The hue and cry over Gov. Edmund G. Brown's proposal to outlaw boxing in California continued unabated on street corners, in the press and on radio and television.

Lancaster's Coach To Be Miami U. Aide

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Lancaster High School head football coach Jerry Wampfler has resigned to become offensive line coach at Miami (Ohio) University.

The Board of Education here released Wampfler, who led the Golden Gales to an 8-1-1 record last year, from his two-year contract so he could become an aide to Glenn E. (Bo) Schembechler at Miami. Schembechler was named head coach last week, leaving his job as an assistant coach at Ohio State to replace John Pont who moved to Yale.

Wampfler is a native of New Philadelphia and a 1954 graduate of Miami. He coached five years at Massillon Perry before coming here a year ago.

Adcock Belts 2 Homers As Indians Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joe Adcock, a slick piece of wampum in any wigwam, might be just the heap big medicine man Birdie Tebbetts wanted for his Indians.

When Tebbetts came to the Cleveland reservation last winter from Milwaukee, he talked the Braves into letting Adcock go in a trade for pitcher Frank Funk and outfielder Don Dillard. Now the Indians can count on a big gun for their attack instead of a bow and arrow.

Adcock proved Monday he can supply the power that's been missing from the Cleveland attack. The 35-year-old first baseman smashed two three-run homers and singled to start another three-run uprising as the Indians whipped Houston 11-3 in an exhibition game at Tucson.

Other outstanding individual performances were turned in by Philadelphia's Paul Brown, who pitched nine innings and shut out Minnesota 2-0 on six hits at Clearwater, and Bubba Phillips, who stroked five singles in Detroit's 17-3 belting of Washington at Pompano Beach.

In a pair of extra-inning affairs, Jim Hickman's 11th-inning homer gave the suprising New York Mets a 4-3 triumph over Milwaukee at St. Petersburg and Baltimore edged Pittsburgh 5-4 at Fort Myers on Mark Belanger's bases-loaded grounder in the 10th.

Elsewhere, the New York Yankees defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-2 at Vero Beach, Boston beat San Francisco 4-2 at Scottsdale, St. Louis edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 at Sarasota, Kansas City walloped Cincinnati 11-4 at Tampa and the Chicago Cubs downed the Los Angeles Angels 7-4 at Mesa.

In off-the-field activity, the Mets released veteran outfielder Bob Cerv, who said he would retire from the game; Cincinnati sold pitcher Johnny Klippstein to Philadelphia, and the Angels sold infielder Leo Burke to St. Louis.

West Must Face Giants From East In Star Tilt

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Cliff Wells, coach of the West team in this Saturday's East-West college All-Star basketball game, knows how David felt when he went out to fight Goliath.

Wells' team faces the task of stopping the likes of All-American Art Heyman of Duke and Jerry Harkness of Chicago Loyola, plus such performers as Tom Thacker of Cincinnati, Rod Thorn of West Virginia, Nate Thurmond of Bowling Green and Jimmy Rayl of Indiana.

"The only thing I can promise you is that I won't stall against this great team," Wells quipped, "but it sure beats me as to how we'll stop them."

The West team will be headed by two fine performers from the Rocky Mountain area—Big Eight scoring champion Ken Charlton of Colorado and Bill Green, the nation's third ranking individual scorer this past season from Colorado State.

"I think the key to beating a team made up of Heyman, Thorn, Harkness, Thurmond and Thacker will be defense," said Wells, who just retired as head basketball coach at Tulane.

Harold Anderson, who will handle the East team, scoffs at the favorite's role.

"This game has to be rated a toss-up," Anderson said. "When you pick the 10 best seniors from each section of the country to play, you've got two evenly matched teams."

The West probably will start Charlton, Green, Lyle Harger of Houston, Gary Hill of Oklahoma City University and either Willie Brown of Texas Western or Nolen Ellison of Kansas.

The contest is sponsored by the National Association of Basketball Coaches, with proceeds going to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame at Springfield, Mass.

Yanks, Mets Claim Snider On Waivers

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The New York Yankees and the New York Mets claimed Duke Snider of the Dodgers as General Manager Buzzie Bavasi placed the veteran outfielder on waivers Monday.

Bavasi said he would deal only with the Mets, however. He can withdraw Snider's name within 48 hours and then try to negotiate with the Mets for more than the waiver price, which is $20,000.

The Dodgers hope to double that for the 36-year-old slugger,

Bob Purkey Looms As? At Red Base

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — All right, so the rookie pitchers are showing unusual promise this spring — but what about Bob Purkey?

The Cincinnati Reds' winningest pitcher last season is out of the lineup for an indefinite period with a sore arm. He developed shooting pains in his working shoulder Sunday and had to quit after pitching two innings against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Purkey worked out Monday and then underwent a diathermy treatment of his right shoulder.

He said it doesn't bother him when he makes ordinary movements, "but it hurts when I cock my arm. It seems like it tightens then and hurts."

Asked how long he expected to stay out of the lineup, last year's 23-game winner grinned wryly and said, "Your guess is as good as mine."

He stayed behind today as the Reds left their Tampa base for a clash with the Milwaukee Braves.

Cincinnati suffered an 11-4 pasting Monday at the hands of the Kansas City Athletics, who clipped a trio of Reds pitchers for 16 hits. No one hit any home runs, but there were a lot of singles all around. The Reds got 11 hits off winner Dan Pflister and John Wyatt. Five doubles were hit during the game.

John Tsitouris started for Cincinnati and left after five innings with the score 6-3 in favor of Kansas City. Four of those runs came in his final inning on four hits, a walk and a hit batsman.

Bill Henry relieved Tsitouris. He lasted three innings and left with the scoreboard reading 8-3. Rookie Marv Fodor held the Athletics to one hit and one run in the final inning.

Wally Post and John Edwards each hit a single and a double for Cincinnati, but that wasn't enough. Ken Walters drove in two runs with a single and a sacrifice fly.

Stan Musial has appeared in 100 games for the St. Louis Cardinals for the past 20 consecutive years, a major league record.

'Blackie' Was Toughest Pitcher Mays Ever Faced

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Someone asked Willie Mays today to name the pitcher he would least like to hit against.

"You mean now or ever since I've been in the league?" he asked.

"Both," the brilliant center fielder of the San Francisco Giants was told.

"The toughest pitcher I ever faced was Ewell Blackwell, who used to pitch for the Cincinnati Reds," said Willie. "I couldn't hit him to save my life. They said he was nearly through when I hit against him. Man, I'd hate to be up there trying to hit him when he was in his prime."

"Maybe I got one or two hits off him but it had to be an accident. He'd wind that long ring arm of his behind his back, then shoot the ball out sideways like, from third base. I'd keep looking for the ball but I never was able to pick it up."

What about today's pitchers? "Don Drysdale of the Dodgers gives me the most trouble," said Willie unhesitatingly. "He doesn't throw exactly like Blackwell but he reminds me of him. He's got the same kind of crossfire pitch, almost by way of third base."

"Like Blackie, Drysdale crowds you a lot. Until last year I used to pick up the flight of the ball on Drysdale pretty well. He was a different pitcher last year. He took charge. He quit fighting himself. Before that, if a guy got a base hit, he used to get mad at himself. It didn't fluster him at all last year."

New Quartet Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Wise Words Develop Good Character

A program change in the weekend barbershop parade was announced at the meeting of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Monday night at the Elks Club ballroom. About 30 attended.

Frank C. Dawson will be master of ceremonies, replacing Joe McMullen, former athletic director of Akron University, who has accepted a position at Penn State and will not be able to attend.

Don Schussler, parade chairman, said Dawson will lead the Saturday night and Sunday afternoon performances at Westgate School. Dale Keddie will be the emcee for the afterglow on Saturday and tickets will be on sale at the Elks Club door.

Dick Smith, ticket chairman, announced good seats remain for the Sunday show. Ed DeBee, publicity chairman, announced the Colonials will sing at the D. M. Ogilvie Co. store Thursday from 7 until 8 and tickets will be on sale. Glenn Woods and Schussler will be interviewed on the B-Line Show Thursday morning over WOHL.

Glenn Hart, president, conducted business. Gerald Jividen, Jack Hile and James Raffle will host the out-of-town quartets. Bill Thomas asked the stage committee and others available to meet 6 p.m. Friday at Westgate to set up props. Dress rehearsal will be at 8.

Hart announced Guest Night is April 15 at the club. Woods directed the rehearsal.

Next meeting is Monday.

Different Activity

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Carole Palumbo, a fifth grade student at Palo Verde Elementary School, was disappointed by a visit to the Arizona Legislature for opening exercises. "I thought," she said, "they were going to do pushups."

One of my grandsons in the fourth grade of an elementary school in Shaker Heights, Ohio, showed me a book in which he had neatly copied "Words to Live By." I was so amazed and pleased to learn that any school child today would have practice at such a useful school that I asked him to Dr. Garry Meyers let me borrow it and pass along some of its contents in this column. He cheerfully granted me this privilege. Here are a few statements from his beautifully decorated book.

GOOD CITIZENS stand, sit, walk and think tall.

Boys flying kites pull in their white-winged birds. But you can't do that when you're flying words.

It's more blessed to give than to receive—Bible.

Haste makes waste.

A man is known by the company he keeps.

Liberty without order is confusion—William Penn.

Where there is no vision the people perish—Bible.

I don't think much of a man who is not wiser today than he was yesterday—A. Lincoln.

When Markham said this about Abraham Lincoln: "A man to match the mountains and the seas."

WHEN YOU'RE feeling troubled by something on your mind. If you'll talk your worries over. It will help a lot, you'll find. No matter if you're quicker or slower than the rest. The main thing, when you're playing.

Is to do your very best.

You'll find you'll make a and keep good friends.

Junior Editors Quiz on GRASS

QUESTION: How can grass keep growing when it's always being cut?

ANSWER: Grass is composed of millions of complete little plants such as we see in (3), with roots, leaves and flowers (we don't see the flowers if the grass has been mowed).

Grasses are the world's most important and widely distributed flowering plants. They are important because they furnish food for cattle, sheep and horses (4) and also because grasses grow thickly together into the heavy mat called sod. This protects the soil from blowing away and helps keep moisture in the ground. Grasses can mat in this way because they not only send out long roots but also underground stems called "rhizomes." Some grasses, instead of rhizomes, send out stems which grow along the surface of the soil called "stolons" (3). Many new plants start from the stolons and rhizomes. This means that even if the flowering part is cut off, grass sod can keep on growing and getting thicker. This is how lawns grow when the lawnmowers shave off the tops of grass plants. In (3) we show, left to right, Bermuda, Buffalo, Quack and Foxtail grass plants.

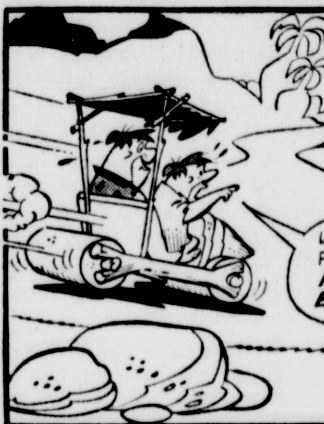

FOR YOU TO DO: Explore the world inside tall grass (1) but be careful not to get lost or injure a farmer's crops. Even more interesting is to get a magnifying glass and investigate the tiny world beneath the lawn (2). All sorts of things are going on down there!

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, March 26, the 85th day of 1963. There are 280 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1913, Ohio and Indiana were devastated by floods which took more than 3,000 lives and caused property damage in excess of $50 million. As a result, large detention reservoirs were built on tributaries of the Miami River running through Ohio. Similar flood prevention measures elsewhere in the nation ultimately aided in saving lives and property.

On this day:

In 1794, Congress passed the first Embargo Act.

In 1804, the Louisiana Purchase was divided into the Territory of Orleans and the District of Louisiana.

In 1892, death came to one of America's great poets, Walt Whitman.

In 1941, Belgrade, Yugoslavia, was the scene of demonstrations against the Axis powers during World War II.

In 1945, Britain's World War I prime minister, David Lloyd George, died at the age of 82.

Today's birthday:

German pianist Wilhelm Backhaus is 79. Scientist - educator James Conant is 79.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruise —

Dear Reader: If you do not own one of those meat pounders . . . that's one of those gadgets that looks like a sledge hammer and has a bunch of little squares on one end of it that is used for tenderizing your meat . . . then try my method.

Use your husband's hammer! By golly there is no use to buy somethin' and have an extra gadget in your drawer if you can get along without it. Especially when we don't use it too often.

I don't see a bit of sense in cluttering up your drawer with a bunch of odd stuff when you can keep it clean and find your favorite paring knife.

Anyway, while I was preparing round steak, I chicken-fried it. I could not find my "checked sledge hammer" and so I picked up my husband's new hammer. I used it to pound round steak on my dough board. It not only served the purpose but doggone if it didn't do a swell job.

The little pieces of chicken-fried steaks all of a sudden expanded to a larger size. But . . . let me tell you what I did to the round steak before I even pounded it.

I used unseasoned tenderizer. After I played tidlywinks with my little piece of steak, I put the tenderizer on it and left it for nearly four hours. (There are directions on the bottle which do not say to leave it four hours.

This just happened to be convenient with me and made a perfect steak.)

I then threw the little pieces of steak in flour and pounded it with the hammer. This beat the flour into the round steak itself. I threw it in some bacon grease and browned it thoroughly on both sides. Put seasoning in . . . covered it with the lid and after pouring a cup of water on it let it simmer for 30 minutes.

Please believe me, this is a grand way to tenderize meat. Get out your husband's hammer. Wash it with a piece of steel wool and pound that meat. It's much better for tender eating!

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Would you please just tell me how a woman can hang a cup up on metal kitchen cabinets? I have just moved into a new apartment which has metal fabricated cabinets.

One cannot possibly screw a cup-holder into the top of any cabinet. Not only would I be grateful but so would 300 other tenants in our apartment building.

LOIS JONES

Please, someone tell us. We sure would be grateful! Send answers to Heloise, care of The Review.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: I thought I should pass this information along. Coffee is packed at sea level and when the jar is opened at a higher altitude where air pressure is lower, there are times when the greater air pressure within the jar is released all at once spraying the coffee out of the jar. Here are a few tips to help prevent this:

Place the unopened jar in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator for several hours or overnight. The low temperature causes a decrease in pressure within the jar. Open the jar as soon as you take it out of the refrigerator—this way:

Turn the jar top away from the face and unscrew the cap carefully. There may be a hissing sound, and with a pin make several holes around the rim of the paper seal—with the jar still turned away from the face. No more troubles.

ANASTASIA RIES

DEAR HELOISE: I had a glass cut to fit the top of my dining room table. Under this glass, I put my lacy doilies. It looks pretty and saves both the table and my doilies! With a flick of my sponge I can keep the glass clean. The same would apply to plastic, I suppose, if anybody wanted to have a plastic top made.

Senators Call More Witnesses In Probe Of TFX

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators called more witnesses today in their investigation of the TFX warplane contract following warnings by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that "only harm could come from the probe."

"There is a lot of harm that will accrue from this investigation," McNamara said in testimony released Monday by the Senate Investigations subcommittee. "I cannot see any good that will accrue from it. I can see only harm."

He pegged his protest to what he called frictions between the Pentagon and the subcommittee. But he said he was not suggesting that the senators drop their inquiry into whether favoritism might have steered the fighter-bomber contract—which ultimately may be worth $6.5 billion—to the General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth, Tex.

McNamara swore that neither political influence nor self interest motivated his awarding the contract to General Dynamics over the Boeing Co. of Seattle, Wash. He said the fact that Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson comes from Texas—where most of the planes will be manufactured—had nothing to do with his decision.

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—"The Old Tucks," a group of former Kentuckians now living in Hamilton, Ohio, have responded to an appeal for food and supplies in the flood-stricken Harlan area. Supplies from Hamilton were among several truck loads to reach here Monday, officials said.

Ex-Gov. DiSalle To Be President Of Virginia City

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle will become president of a still-to-be-built city in suburban Virginia, it was announced today.

Robert E. Simon, owner and developer of the area to be known as Reston, Va., announced DiSalle's appointment in a speech prepared for a meeting of the Advertising Club of Washington.

DiSalle, former administrator of the Office of Price Administration in the Truman administration, was governor of Ohio from 1958 to 1962. He lost his bid for reelection last November to Republican James A. Rhodes.

Simon said construction of the 10.5-square mile tract in Fairfax County—to include houses and apartments for 75,000, industrial sites and recreation areas—will begin this summer.

Simon said DiSalle, now a visiting professor of political science at the University of Massachusetts, would take over as chief executive officer on May 1.

Ayers Demands Equal TV Time To Counter Film

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Ohio congressman has demanded equal time to go on television to counter an Internal Revenue Service film he says tarnished the reputation of every American businessman.

Rep. William H. Ayres, R-Ohio, said Monday that the film, which shows a businessman living it up on his expense account, "discredits our whole system" by implying that businessmen and salesmen are cheats and crooks.

The film was withdrawn several weeks ago, and Ayres wrote Federal Communications Commissioner Newton N. Minow that this was an admission of its being controversial.

"While it is true that Internal Revenue has removed the broadcast, the damage remains, and it can only be rectified if equal time is granted," the Akron congressman said, adding:

"I will be glad to provide the film and let the networks use it at their convenience."

He said he would use the time to explain how the new IRS rule regarding expense accounts is working.

GF Company Names 4 New Board Members

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Delbert W. Coleman, who acquired 116,000 shares of General Fireproofing Co. stock, was named to the company's board Monday, along with three supporters.

General Fireproofing management agreed recently to give the Coleman group seats on the nine-member board. Coleman is chairman of Pacific Coast Co. and Seeburg Corp.
